Nab 9 in Area Narcotic Raids

By LYNN MULVANEY
Eight men and a girl were arrested last night and early this morning when county and state police agencies conducted simultaneous narcotics raids in the New Paltz-Highland-Modena area.

Charges ranged from selling and possession of a dangerous drug to loitering for the purpose of procuring dangerous drugs.

Drugs purchased by police agents which led to the indictments included heroin, cocaine and marijuana.

During last night's raids, police found marijuana, hashish and a needle and syringe.

Bench warrants had been issued for six of the defendants and the remaining three, including the girl, were picked up at her trailer home on Rt. 32, New Paltz.

Two Are Students

Two of the nine arrested are students at State University College at New Paltz.

Those under indictment by the grand jury were remanded to county jail. Bail was fixed at $5,000 cash and $10,000 property bond. They will appear before County Judge Raymond Mino when court convenes Monday.

The raids coincided with others throughout the state last night in which 70 persons were picked up.

Those arrested locally on bench warrants were:

Richard H. Peplow, a 23-year-old married truck driver whose address is listed as Box 528, Rt. 2, Highland. He is employed by a Highland dry cleaning establishment and is charged with criminal selling and possession of a dangerous drug.

Joseph Francisco Penzato, 19, single, resides at Station Road, New Paltz. He is charged with criminal possession and criminal selling of a dangerous drug.

Both were arrested in New Paltz.

Picked up in his car was Michael Richard Fellerman, 26 of Freetown Highway, Modena. Married, he lists his occupation as an artist.

He is charged with criminal possession and selling of a dangerous drug.

Arrested in Trailer

George Ernest Lynch, a 19-year-old unemployed laborer, 5 N. Oakwood Terrace, New Paltz, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Lynch was arrested in a trailer on Rt. 32, New Paltz. Lynch was also charged with selling and possession of drugs.

Three persons with him, for whom no bench warrants had been issued, were arrested and arraigned.

They are: Susan Diane Nelson, 20, Rt. 32, New Paltz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Nelson. She is an unemployed clerk and was arrested on the charge of alleged criminal possession of a dangerous drug, a second degree felony.

William Oldrich Havranek, 19, Rt. 208, New Paltz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oldrich Havranek, is a repairman for a Gardiner firm. He was charged with alleged possession of a dangerous drug.

Robert Leonard Alquist, Rt. 44-55, Clintondale, was arrested for loitering for the purpose of procuring dangerous drugs, a misdemeanor.

The last two, both students at State University College at New Paltz, were arrested on bench warrants charging criminal selling and possession of a dangerous drug.

They are: Charles Lupardo, 18, of Staten Island and Erich Heine, 20, of Shenerock.

All those arrested were brought to the Highland State Police Barracks where they were photographed and fingerprinted before being remanded to county jail.

Three-Month Investigation

Those responsible for the three-month investigation and apprehension of those involved were agents of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs, Captain J. A. Vann, State Police, Sidney Thomas Mayone, special narcotics investigator for the district attorney's office and Sheriff William Martin. New Paltz police also cooperated.

In the state wide raids, an undisclosed quantity of marijuana, LSD and amphetamine pills was confiscated, along with water pipes and other apparatus.

About 150 state troopers and local policemen arrested 31 persons in the Binghamton area, 20 at Ithaca, nine at Cortland and Norwich.

Among those arrested were students at Cornell University and Ithaca College and State University College at Cortland.

Press Probe in Double Deaths

By CHARLES BERMPOHL

An intensive investigation is being pressed in an effort to find the killer of 21-year-old Neil R. Bechtold and his 20-year-old woman companion found shot to death on a Puerto Rican beach Thursday. Bechtold was the son of the 1967 Republican candidate for mayor of Kingston, C. John Bechtold.

He was a sergeant in the U.S. Air Force 72nd Security Police Squadron stationed at Ramey AFB on the Caribbean island.

Bechtold and Miss Dorothy Long, formerly of Fresno, Calif., were found by the woman's father on an isolated section of beach within the military reservation.

The dead woman's father, Duane Long, is a teacher in the base elementary school.

Clark Anderson, agent in charge of the San Juan Federal Bureau of Investigation, told The Freeman that Miss Long had been shot twice and Bechtold once.

He claimed that all three shots were fired at close range from what was believed to be a revolver.

The couple was found by Long at about 6 a. m. Thursday morning, according to the FBI agent.

A pathologist has not yet fixed the exact time of death, but authorities believe the couple had been dead approximately seven hours when found.

It had been established that the couple had gone to a movie Wednesday night, leaving the show at about 8 p. m.

The rest of the couple's movements are not clearly known.

Along with the FBI, the Air Force Office of Special Investigations is involved in the case. Puerto Rican authorities are also aiding in the investigation.

Bechtold had been stationed at Ramey since Nov. 17, 1966.

He enlisted in the Air Force in 1965 and received his basic training at Lackland AFB in Texas.

He was a 1964 graduate of Kingston High School and had been on the varsity wrestling and football teams.

HHH and the Presidency, Decision Is Forthcoming

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, with some backing from business, labor, the South—and perhaps President Johnson—is launching his second quest for the Democratic presidential nomination issuing a call for national unity.

His announcement of candidacy, due today at a luncheon for 1,000 supporters at a Washington hotel, pits him against Robert F. Kennedy of New York and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, his fellow Minnesotan.

Although any heir-apparent status for Humphrey is vague at this point, professional politicians are firm in the belief Johnson prefers Humphrey as his successor.

The President announced March 31 he will not run again but made clear in remarks Thursday night he will not be a bystander in the campaign.

And Johnson's promise to vigorously oppose "any would-be divisive force" in the nation was widely interpreted as directed primarily at Kennedy and McCarthy, critics of the way he has handled the Vietnam war and other problems.

This and the chief executive's pledge to work for continuance of his domestic programs pointed strongly to Humphrey, the indefatigable defender of Johnson policies at home and in Vietnam.

It remains undisclosed just how and when Johnson would help his loyal vice president pick up support for the Democratic convention in August at Chicago while Kennedy and McCarthy harvest the publicity and the votes from presidential primaries he is not entering.

A Strong Prospect

But Humphrey, 56, is regarded as a strong prospect to win the nomination, a prize he saw vanish in 1960 after suffering primary defeats at the hands of John F. Kennedy.

Organized labor and business leaders are giving him help—business principally because some of its leaders have an ingrained fear of Kennedy, who gave the steel industry a rough time as attorney general when President Kennedy forced a steel-price rollback.

And Humphrey enters the campaign with strong support of regular Democrats in the South who had expected to back Johnson for renomination until the President bowed out.

Govs. John J. McKeithen of Louisiana, Buford Ellington of Tennessee, John B. Connally of Texas and Mills E. Godwin of Virginia all have had kind words for Humphrey.

Ironically, Humphrey was once regarded as no friend of the South after his successful fight to win adoption of a civil rights plan at the 1948 Democratic National Convention. That fight first put him in the national political spotlight.

The vice president hopes for the backing of the politically powerful Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago, who controls the hefty Illinois delegation and of Gov. Richard J. Hughes, who heads the sizable New Jersey convention contingent.

Humphrey has a base in Minnesota, where his organization claims the convention delegation will be at least 46 for Humphrey to 16 for McCarthy.

Humphrey has support in delegations already chosen in Alaska and Nevada, and may get most of the delegates from Connecticut.

He has been endorsed by, among others, Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, Secretary-designate Wilbur J. Cohen of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and Sens. Fred R. Harris and A.S. Mike Monroney, both of Oklahoma, Walter F. Mondale of Minnesota, Alan Bible of Nevada, Daniel K. Inouye of Hawaii and Frank E. Moss of Utah.

Harris and Mondale are Humphrey's campaign managers as co-chairmen of United Democrats for Humphrey, whose honorary chairman is former President Harry S. Truman.

Humphrey, who will be 57 on May 7, is older than Kennedy, McCarthy and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the only announced major GOP presidential candidate.

But Harris and Mondale are putting the accent on youth in building the United Democrats for Humphrey organization.

Humphrey's campaign theme of national unity will call upon his rivals to make clear they will support the party nominee if they are defeated on the road to the nomination.

He has said he will take the record of the Johnson-Humphrey administration to "every corner of the land." And he has vowed not to retreat from that record.

Wants National Unity

Humphrey has said there is a great need for national unity, contending all Americans "must put our differences behind us." He has called for "a permanent moratorium on the inflammatory demagoguery which pits men against each other—for a moratorium on the vocabulary of violence."

Humphrey's announcement comes on the 1,193rd day of his vice presidency, a post he was elected to in 1964 following 16 years in the Senate.

He was twice elected mayor of Minneapolis after helping form the Democrat-Farmer Labor Party in Minnesota, a coalition that also brought Orville Freeman the governorship—and Eugene J. McCarthy a Senate seat.

Humphrey was born in Wallace, S.D., son of a druggist. The Depression forced him to quit the University of Minnesota in his second year and return to work in his father's drug store in Huron. It was while working there that he met Muriel Buck, whom he married in 1936.

Humphrey returned to school, majoring in political science, and was graduated magna cum laude and Phi Beta Kappa from the University of Minnesota in 1939.

He earned his master's degree at Louisiana State University with a thesis on "The Philosophy of the New Deal."

Humphrey taught in college until entering in politics in 1943.

Vietnam, Rights, Draft UCCC Strike Discussion

By HUGH REYNOLDS

The students at Ulster County Community College didn't strike for peace yesterday although many of them took time to listen to a variety of speakers discuss Vietnam, civil rights and the draft.

By order of UCCC President Dr. George B. Erbstein classes were held as usual. Absence from classes was treated in the same manner as normally. There were rumors around the campus yesterday that some teachers might penalize students that cut their classes to participate in the International Student Strike for Peace. Those rumors proved unfounded.

Dr. Erbstein's position that the college neither supports nor condones the student strike but would not restrict individuals whose consciences prompted them to participate met with general approval of the student body.

The demonstration attracted about 60 students on the lawn in front of the college. A stiff wind and temperatures in the 40's made hearing the speakers difficult.

Edward Nadel, an economics professor at the college, the first speaker, spoke of what he termed the evils of anti-communism. Nadel blamed the war in Vietnam on this country's "obsession with anti-communism."

"Unless we question the policy of anti-communism," he said, "we will continue to have Vietnams."

Students at a score of universities joined an international protest Friday against racism and the war in Vietnam. See story on page 18.

Nadel said the nation needs a complete reversal of priorities, that America should concentrate its efforts on rebuilding its cities and bringing racial accord.

He spoke of the human cost of this reversal of priorities, saying, "We need candidates who are willing to commit political suicide; teachers who will sacrifice their academic standing and students who will risk flunking out."

Other speakers included Earl Pardini, a former student at Ulster, who, as a conscientious objector chose to work in Benedictine Hospital rather than submit to the draft.

Peter Falvey of Fair Street, Kingston, spoke of the problems of youth, both black and white. Charles Johnson, a Bard College student, spoke on racial discrimination in Ulster County.

The program lasted about five hours. A similar program is being conducted at the State College in New Paltz this afternoon.

Mission Guest To Speak at Fair Street

REV. JOHN MULLENBURG

The Rev. John Mullenburg, former missionary of the Reformed Church in America, will be guest preacher at the Fair Street Reformed Church this Sunday.

The Rev. Mr. Mullenburg, who served as assistant pastor of the church during the ministry of the Rev. Frank Seeley, left the local church to enter mission work in the Far East, working particularly in China and the Philippine Islands. Now associated with the National Council of Churches, the Rev. Mr. Mullenburg is director of overseas personnel.

A covered-dish luncheon will be held immediately after the 11 o'clock service Sunday morning, allowing members of the church to meet with the speaker. He will preach at both Sunday morning services and will also address the adult division of The Institute of Christian Living at 7 p. m. Sunday.

The community may attend.

Church Will Sponsor Hurley Scout Troop

With the increased activity and interest in Scouting in the Hurley area during the past few months, it has seemed advisable to undertake the formation of a new Troop in the Hurley area. St. Joseph's Church will assume the sponsorship of this troop which will be open to all residents of the area.

This troop will meet regularly on Tuesday nights in the St. Joseph's Mission Building on Zandhoeck Road in Hurley.

The first organizational meeting however, will be held Monday, April 29 at 7 p. m. Any boy who is interested in becoming a charter member of this new group is asked to come to the meeting and to bring, if possible, at least one parent.

Boys not yet registered in scouting must be at least 11 years old to join, but those who are presently Webelos Cubs or who will be eleven in the next few months are welcome to attend this first meeting.

This new troop will join the active Scouting program which has been in St. Joseph's parish for over thirty years through the continued operation of Troop 3 and pack 3.

Mission Guest To Speak at Fair Street

The Rev. John Mullenburg, former missionary of the Reformed Church in America, will be guest preacher at the Fair Street Reformed Church this Sunday.

The Rev. Mr. Mullenburg who served as assistant pastor of the church during the ministry of the Rev. Frank Seeley, left the local church to enter mission work in the Far East, working particularly in China and the Philippine Islands. Now associated with the National Council of Churches, the Rev. Mr. Mullenburg is director of overseas personnel.

A covered-dish luncheon will be held immediately after the 11 o'clock service Sunday morning, allowing members of the church to meet with the speaker. He will preach at both Sunday morning services and will also address the adult division of The Institute of Christian Living at 7 p. m. Sunday.

The community may attend.

Church Will Sponsor Hurley Scout Troop

With the increased activity and interest in Scouting in the Hurley area during the past few months, it has seemed advisable to undertake the formation of a new Troop in the Hurley area. St. Joseph's Church will assume the sponsorship of this troop which will be open to all residents of the area.

This troop will meet regularly on Tuesday nights in the St. Joseph's Mission Building on Zandhoeck Road in Hurley.

The first organizational meeting however, will be held Monday, April 29 at 7 p. m. Any boy who is interested in becoming a charter member of this new group is asked to come to the meeting and to bring, if possible, at least one parent.

Boys not yet registered in scouting must be at least 11 years old to join, but those who are presently Webelos Cubs or who will be eleven in the next few months are welcome to attend this first meeting.

This new troop will join the active Scouting program which has been in St. Joseph's Parish for over thirty years through the continued operation of Troop 3 and pack 3.

Council Makes Blanket Appeal

The Kingston Area Council of Churches in cooperation with Church World Service is sponsoring a spring appeal for blankets and clothing through the member congregations of the council. Each congregation is gathering materials from its own membership to be brought to a central location on Saturday, May 4, where it will be picked up by Church World Service.

There is a special need at this time for blankets and light quilts. The appeal states, "When disaster strikes, blankets bring warmth, comfort and emergency shelter to the homeless and the ill." Also needed according to the report.

is good clean, light-weight clothing, especially children's with at least six months remaining wear, as well as bar soap in the original wrappers.

Church World Services gives aid to persons in over 30 countries each year, to refugees in the Congo, to casualties of the war in Vietnam and the Middle East; to earthquake victims in Greece and Turkey; to disaster victims in Brazil and wherever a need can be met. Five million pounds of blankets and light clothing are needed this year to fill minimum requests.

Additional information may be secured from pastors of member churches of the council.

Williams Honored By His Community

Citizens in all walks of life, many of them prominent in county and town of Saugerties civic and political affairs attended a testimonial dinner

Denies Making Statement at Democrat Parley

James T. McCordle, Hurley town Democratic chairman, today took exception with a part of a Freeman article yesterday on the Democratic City meeting Thursday night written by city hall reporter Hugh Reynolds.

McCordle was quoted as saying, "It was simply a case of cold feet." The article told of the adjournment of the city committee which had been expected to endorse Senator Robert F. Kennedy for the presidency.

Today McCordle said, "I deny making a statement that it was simply a case of cold feet" as quoted in The Freeman. My statement to Mr. Reynolds was that I could not understand why some of the committeemen voted for adjournment as they are candidates for election and would be reluctant to go on record publicly."

Thursday night honoring Man of the Year, Peter M. Williams. The event sponsored by Saugerties Jaycees honored the former Saugerties supervisor for his many years of civic and public service to his community.

Town Justice Michael A. Catalinotto as toastmaster outlined a biography of Williams citing his 18 years of service as a supervisor and legislator on the County Board of Supervisors. The toastmaster also spoke of Williams' many civic activities and his service to the veterans and families of veterans in his community.

Williams at his introduction and prior to his message of gratitude received a standing ovation.

Wilson Edmunds, Jaycees president made the presentation of the Citizen of the Year plaque.

Williams, addressing the gathering took the opportunity to ask support for the Saugerties Honor Roll project he is heading. He said that the honor roll now requires additional bronze pages for the names of local veterans who are serving in Vietnam.

Former Citizens of the Year in attendance were Vernon Joe Benjamin, Peter Pocalyko, Donald S. Fellows, the Rev. Frederick Imhoff, and Lawrence Cahill.

Catalinotto extolled the work of Richard Buono, who served as Jaycee project chairman to organize the testimonial dinner.

The Rev. Mr. Imhoff, pastor of Saugerties Congregational Church offered the invocation and benediction.

A Public Hearing will be held in the Town of Kingston on May 6, 1968 in the Town Hall following the regular Town Board Meeting on Requirements for the Approval of Subdivision Plans and Minimum Standard Requirements of New Town Roads.

First Ambulance Service Scheduled for Woodstock

An ambulance service — the first in the town's history — will be established in Woodstock in the early part of May.

Ronald E. DeWillers, president of the De Willers Ambulance Service, Inc., has moved his business to Woodstock from Port Washington.

The De Willers Ambulance Service will be part of a group of services to be offered in the Woodstock and Ulster County area by DeWillers. He is setting up a communications center which will include the 24-hour, seven-day-a-week telephone answering service, and a burglar and fire alarm service.

The De Willers Ambulance Service will operate two ambulances, both equipped with oxygen and other medical supplies, which are licensed by the New York State Department of Health. The ambulances and oxygen equipment will be centrally located in Woodstock for prompt service.

The Burglar and Fire Alarm Service for the many merchants in the Woodstock and Saugerties area also will be operated from the communications center. Any breaking or entering or fire will set off an alarm at the center. The center in turn will notify the police or fire departments.

To reach the new communications center, telephone 679-2478.

DeWillers also plans to inaugurate a daily courier service.

between Woodstock, Saugerties, Kingston and back to Woodstock.

In addition to all the above services, DeWillers announces horse shows all over the Eastern part of the country. With specialized equipment he is able to announce from one to three rings in a horse show by himself. He is a member of the American Horse Show Association, and has been announcing horse shows for 18 seasons.

Rites for Bechtold Will Be Announced

Funeral arrangements for Sgt. Neil Richard Bechtold, 21, who died in Puerto Rico Thursday, will be announced by Keyser Funeral Service, Kingston Chapel.

Bechtold of 337 Foxhall Avenue was killed at Coral Beach, Puerto Rico. He was a member of the 7th Security Police Squadron, stationed at Puerto Rico.

He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church and A. H. Wicks Engine Company.

A graduate of Kingston High School in 1964, Bechtold was on the varsity wrestling team, played football and baseball and was active in DeMolay.

The son of C. John and Marie Shultis Bechtold, he is also survived by his grandparents, Harford and Elizabeth Kohler Shultis Sr. of Kingston; two brothers, Major John G. Bechtold of the U. S. Army stationed in Germany and Bruce H. Bechtold of Salt Lake City, Utah; and a sister, Elizabeth, wife of Timothy Kephart of Painesville, Ohio.

Arrangements, entrusted to the care of Keyser Funeral Home, Kingston Chapel, Albany and Manor Avenues will be announced as soon as completed.

Mrs. Valerie L. Q. Sheeley, deputy commissioner of Ulster County Board of Elections said the local board had contacted the Election and Law Bureau in the Department of State, Albany. It was their opinion that the new and/or the old wards and districts would be acceptable on designating petitions because of the lack of maps and descriptions of the new boundaries.

However, after lengthy discussions by the local board, it was decided to recommend, if possible, that the old ward and district numbers be used.

In the event of objections to petitions, the board said it would be more convenient to check the printed lists which were prepared this past winter. If the new wards and districts have already been inserted, they too will be acceptable.

Man Injured
A 21-year-old New Jersey man was injured early this morning in the Dutchess County Town of Poughkeepsie when his motorcycle went out of control sending him sprawling on the highway.

Rhinebeck State Police report that David Giannascoli of Vineyard, N. J. was traveling south on Route 9 at about 1:30 a. m. when he lost control of his motorcycle while rounding a left curve.

Police claim that Giannascoli's motorcycle went off the right side of the road and when he tried to gain control of the machine, it spun around in the middle of the road and pitched over.

Dr. Kenyon Relieved Of New Paltz Duties

By CHARLES BERMPHOHL

The director of the Mid-Hudson Regional Supplementary Center in New Paltz was relieved of his duties on April 15 as a result of action by the center's board of trustees.

The Freeman has learned that Dr. Raymond G. Kenyon, one of the more respected educational leaders in the Mid-Hudson Valley and an innovator of sophisticated techniques, received a letter on April 12 from The Board of Cooperative Educational Services informing him of his termination.

BOCES acts as the legal agency and the federal fund dispersing agency for the center.

Under the State Education Law, no reason need be given for the dismissal and none will be forthcoming, according to members of the trustee board.

Temporarily heading the educational center is Leon Greenberg, director of the New Paltz headquartered BOCES curriculum development program.

Under Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, the educational center was set up in July, 1966, and, to date, has spent over $130,000 in federal funds on salaries, rental charges, and equipment, according to Henry Hopper, district superintendent of BOCES.

Hopper is also one of the founding members of the educational center and remains on the center's board of trustees.

Hopper claimed that although the State Education Department "has not come up with a definite explanation" for the provisional charter for the educational organization, granted in November, 1966 by the state's Board of Regents, states that the center shall "encourage educational and cultural innovation and experimentation throughout the Mid-Hudson region."

The Mid-Hudson Regional Supplementary Educational Center years ago. She was a director of the Talented Art Program, and its district includes Ulster, Dutchess, Sullivan, Orange, and Putnam Counties and upper Westchester County.

BOCES is included in the same district. It receives funds directly from the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare to administer to the center.

The center's board of trustees functions generally as the overseer of the operation and the regional director, which was Dr. Kenyon's title, is directly responsible to them.

Develops Programs
The educational center develops programs in its area's public elementary and secondary schools.

Dr. Kenyon, who was to have completed his second year in June, was appointed by the founding nine-member board.

Dr. George R. Sullivan, former superintendent of the Ontario School District and now a professor at the State University at New Paltz, is currently president of the center's board of trustees.

Local Death Record
Miss Marie S. Schroeder, 107 Franklin Street, died Friday night at Benedictine Hospital. ## Worst Crisis Since 1931

William McChesney Martin Jr., who helped put the economy together after the crash of 1931, as head of the New York Stock Exchange, now as head of the Federal Reserve System warned that "The nation is in the midst of the the worst financial crisis since 1931."

In 1931, the problem was deflation. Today it is inflation and equally intolerable, Martin said. The remedy he urged is a tax increase, reduction of the budgetary deficit and correction of the balance of payments. Otherwise, he saw no escape from disaster.

"The nation cannot tolerate price rises almost twice the gains in production," Martin pointed out. "Nor can it ignore the warnings of foreign friends. After all, the Europeans are depositors in this country and a banker doesn't kick a depositor in the teeth."

The board's first recent action, raising its discount rate to 5.5 per cent five weeks after it jumped from 4.5 per cent to 5 per cent March 14, was its official move to try to stem inflation. But as Martin said, much more is needed.

The tug of war between President Johnson and Chairman Wilbur Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee has prevented Congress from increasing taxes because the President has not agreed to cutting nondefense spending enough.

Johnson no longer needs to think of the effect of a tax increase and spending cut on his own political future, now that he has bowed out of the race. But Congress does. Johnson can perform another act of statesmanship by accepting Congress' challenge to cut spending by $8 billion. He would then be in a position to demand that Congress in turn match his act by increasing taxes 10 per cent.

Power Mower Time

Now that we have had some much-needed rain, we can look for greener and higher grass. And this will mean that the seasonal chore of keeping the grass cut is at hand.

A note of warning in this regard for those who use power mowers. The National Safety Council points out that 100,000 persons annually are injured by rotary power mowers.

The most common injury is caused by objects thrown by power mowers. A rock, a piece of wood or wire, hidden in the grass can lead to serious injury.

There are several ways operators of law mowers can cut down on the number of injuries. First, clear the area of all loose objects that might be struck in the course of cutting. Make sure children and pets are safely out of the way of the mower. Know the performance capability of your machine and keep it properly serviced and repaired.

Above all, never leave the mower unattended. And remember, never try to unclog a mower while the motor is running.

At the start of the season, make sure the mower is cleaned and then lubricated.

These hints may not lessen the summer chore, but careful adherence to them may get you and your family through the summer without injury.

Meals for Pre-School

Children should not go hungry. Surely, this great nation can subscribe to that principle. Congress felt that it could and voted for Federal contributions to provide meals for pre-school children in poverty areas.

The bill would broaden the 20-year-old national school lunch program by providing meals for the first time for children not yet in school. Through federal grants to states, meal programs would be set up in institutions that provide day care for children in poverty areas or in areas where there are high concentrations for working mothers.

It is also designed to close the summer hiatus in the school lunch program by providing meals to school children in day camps or recreation centers during the summer vacation. It should provide for hundreds of thousands of children—those too young for school or during the summer months when the school cafeteria is closed. It recognizes that the need of children to eat does not coincide with the school calendar.

Unlike the school lunch program, the pre-school program would enable children to obtain meals free or at reduced costs if they cannot pay. The cost of a meal is about 20 cents, of which 14 cents is contributed by the Federal government, one cent by the state and local governments and the remainder by the school children, who may be forgiven their share if they cannot pay. Properly operated, the new pre-school program should assure young children nutritional meals wherever it is in operation.

If as is widely believed, gambling creates the funds for much of the crime syndicate in this country, then Congress should grant the Federal Government jurisdiction over gambling heretofore reserved to the states. A bill to that effect is a natural consequence of the Supreme Court's ruling that it is unconstitutional to require gamblers to register.

"You're an Imperialist, a Warmonger and a Bum—but Get It Up!"

Henry J. Taylor Says Selling Us Down the River

Courageous Federal Reserve Board Chairman William McChesney Martin Jr., in his agonized warnings on April 19 quoted an unnamed Congressman who asked him, "Will financial disaster strike this year if we don't act?" Receiving a negative answer, the legislator said, "Good, then after I'm re-elected I'll help you with the problem."

That's the guts of our peril—politics with a capital P. Meanwhile, the same faithless guardians of the public interest who are selling us down the river expect us to reward them at the polls.

Most troubles in our lives do not come because we do not know what to do. They come because we do not do what we know we should do. So it is also with nations.

What is folly in the family cannot be wisdom in the kingdom.

It is utterly ridiculous to deny the relationship between always spending beyond income and inflation (air forced into a balloon) and bust. Yet there are votes in them that hills if you can fool the people by printing more and more paper money—which, stripped of double-talk, is exactly what the Great Society has been doing. Vietnam war or no war and come what may.

It takes no brains (or character) to promise people pie in the sky—only the mouth to say it. What is easier than to tell people you are "giving" them something without letting them know they are paying for it? And anybody can insist that there must be no poverty. But solutions are harder than that.

Years ago California nearly elected Upton Sinclair with his paper-money rocking-chair, debt-defying Townsend Plan to "end poverty in California." It is now generally agreed that the Townsend Plan would have ended California but no poverty.

Today, with the war on poverty a local and national shambles, the Social Security and welfare programs loaded with abuse, and the reckless refusals to put priorities on the over-all spending, millions ask how long this prostitution of our wealth can continue without wrecking every decent concept of our democratic system. For in not one single major instance are the politicians themselves sacrificing anything whatever to stop the dollar's dwindling purchasing power and protect our savings.

When President Johnson signed another billion-dollar bill recently he said, "I hope the Congress which has already done so much for so many will do just a little more." Hogwash, absolute hogwash.

This not only misstates the source of our wealth, but such exuberant boasts about giving everyone "more, more, more" enhance the inflation.

A government—any government—is a spender, not an earner. It provides no wealth. The wealth must be provided by the people. Anything that a government says it will "give" the people, it must first take away from the people. And how much government overspending and debt we can stand is the great standing question.

Deficit financing—borrowing to spend more than your income—means debts, inflation and unsound money. As a government continues to spend beyond its income and borrows more to pay its bills the inflation spreads like spotted fever.

This cannot be stopped until the deficit financing is stopped. And every thoughtful citizen should harken to what courageous Mr. Martin says about that: "We have been living in a fool's paradise and show promise of dawdling over solutions, just as the British did."

Coupled with the "more, more, more" boasts, the suicide of the Great Society's wage-price guidelines lights the additional inflationary fuse. Everyone has to run faster than Alice just to stay even.

Mr. Martin again: "I am convinced that our national productivity gains of three per cent this year compared with wage raises in the order of balance-of-payments figures will lead us to uncontrolled inflation and eventual deflation or depression—unless checked as soon as possible."

If we do not use our eyes for seeing we will use them for weeping. If we pay attention to the politicians' mouths instead of heeding courageous men of brains and character like William McC. Martin, we've had it, folks. The economic and military security of the United States goes down the drain.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

We live in a Chinese house. It has moon gates and lacquered tables and bamboo shoot mattresses. The dog wears Scotch Tape on his eyes. The housekeeper says: "Y'all kumquat!" I write with a long brush. My father looked like a laundryman before he arrived. We let him sit in his room and play with fortune cookies. Some go off.

Last night a woman who introduced herself as Sylvia Wahrburg—which isn't Cantonese—arrived with fourteen cartons of Chinese food. The steam fogged me. She said it was for us, free, gratis, cufferoni, up your dragon sleeve. Her brother, Ted Werner is, it seems, a frenema-

Everybody became excited. My old man almost dropped his opium pipe. When we opened the cartons, the kitchen looked as though a boiler of the Titanic just blew. I could have pressed three suits.

We had fantail shrimp, shrimp with lobster, shrimp with fried rice, chow har kew shrimp, shrimp roll, egg roll, chicken Cantonese, barbecue ribs, white rice, duck, hot mustard, soy sauce, almond cookies and Chinese tea.

The women were frantic for it. They zoomed their noses up and down and made big "Ahhhs." The plates were shoved on the dining room table. Dad said: "I'll have some pancakes." I said: "Me, too." The Irish Chinese are the worst kind.

The three K's—Kelly, Karen and Kathy—ate as though Mao was closing in on us. They kept assuring themselves that they would be hungry again in an hour. My father ate the pancakes. The last Chinese he saw that he liked was Warner Oland.

The last time I ate Chinese food was between Hong Kong and Lo Wu. There is a retreat high up in the rocky hills off the bay called Dragon Inn. It is not for Caucasians. The only way foreigners ever get there is accidentally.

The tables were wooden and circular. In 10 minutes, my stomach was on a roller coaster. My host, Jimmy Chen, had clipped me for a couple of silk suits and some shirts. It was very easy not to eat all night long.

First they take you out on a balcony where some weird fish with whiskers are swimming in a pool. You are requested to pick out the one you like. Then they chop, their head off, cook the whiskers and, for all I know, throw the rest of it away. Those eyes had an accusing look.

There was much jollity in the Chinese language which, my host assured me, loses something in the translation, so he didn't. The first course was shark fin soup with crab cream. My soup spoon rowed across that mess and back again 17 times.

This was followed with stewed chicken with honey and ginger. That too lost something in the translation. That ratta chicken was true. Chen told me that I would find with joy over the next delicacy, which turned out to be something I always give up for Lent: stewed pigeon with oyster sauce. I think they fed the oysters to that bird when he was still on the wing.

You haven't lived until you have caressed your taste buds with Duck's feet. Chuk Sang, Mine were medium rare and I couldn't help but wonder what happened to the rest of that duck. They might at least have cleaned the nails.

Someone skipped the duck's feet in favor of Frog with Egg Plant. This, dear buddy of mine, is not frog's leg muniature. This is the whole frog with those hyperthyroid eyes. I resisted the impulse to devour it and said I have to save a little room for the next dish.

I wish I hadn't. The next dish was braised ox-tripe. How can anyone braise that glop? One of the guests, I think it was Fong the dress-maker, suddenly reverted to the beginning and ordered a portion of hot chicken blood soup. The shoe man from Cameron Road roared laughing and said he'd have soup too: pig's lung with vegetable.

By midnight I was ready to eat the bamboo curtain. We drove back down to Kowloon by moonlight and Jimmy Chen picked his teeth and patted his belly.

Drew Pearson Says Hubert Builds His Own Image; Has Close-Knit Organization

WASHINGTON—When Vice President Humphrey delivered his recent speech on building bridges to China, most people figured that either he was breaking with President Johnson or had cleared his speech with the White House in advance. Real fact is that he had done neither.

It was a speech quite different from that of six months ago when he talked about communism with its head-militant aggressive Asian quarters in Peking. Instead, last week he talked about replacing "iron curtains" with "open doors."

"I look forward to the day when the great Chinese people, no longer victimized from within, take their place in the modern world," Humphrey said.

People who wondered about the speech didn't know that after its delivery the Vice President got a phone call from President Johnson congratulating him. They also didn't know that previously Johnson had told Humphrey to go out "on your own, make your own policy."

"It was a great speech," the President said after delivery.

HHH Organizes

Vice President Humphrey isn't making it official until today, but behind the scenes he's been making a lot of political hay. He now has a close-knit campaign organization, a top money raiser, and a braintrust, together with a lot of delegates quietly pledged around the nation.

Most interesting member of the Humphrey team is Dick Maguire, onetime money-raiser for John F. Kennedy and once a close friend of the Kennedy family. Today, however, Maguire is ensconced in the Mayflower hotel in Washington as treasurer of "United Democrats for Humphrey."

The Vice President's campaign managers are two live-wire members of the Senate—Fred Harris of Oklahoma, who may be the next Senate Democratic Whip, and Walter Mondale, Hubert's fellow Minnesotan.

Bob Short, former owner of the Minneapolis Lakers, who was Minnesota campaign manager for Sen. Estes Kefauver when Kefauver trounced both Adlai Stevenson and Humphrey in the 1952 Minnesota primary, he also joined the Vice President's brain trust.

Italian-American Senator

Humphrey's most interesting Senate backer is the leading Italian-American of the nation, Sen. John Pastore of Rhode Island. Pastore packs a lot of punch in the Senate, also in the White House. President Johnson gives him credit for his new technique in holding televised press conferences.

"That little bantam rooster came in here and told me to stop being a Baptist preacher," the President told a friend. "Get away from the podium," he said, "and be the old swinging Lyndon Johnson!"

Sen. Pastore suffered a heart attack this winter, and also has been under attack by the Kennedy forces. Bobby Kennedy has applied tremendous pressure to get Pastore to support him. He has argued that Rhode Island is the neighbor of Massachusetts and he wanted all of New England for him for President.

Despite the pressure, the Vice President last week got a call from Sen. Pastore. "Hubert," he said, "I've just called the Providence papers in here and I've told them I'm for you. You're the best qualified man we have to be President."

"Can I quote you on that?" Humphrey asked. "Sure you can," Sen. Pastore replied.

The Vice President has talked to members of the Johnson cabinet, and with three exceptions, a dyed-in-the-wool not to endorse him. He was fearful of the political reaction.

"I can just hear Bobby say in his next speech that Lyndon Johnson was meat-axing me by turning his entire Cabinet loose to cut me up," the Vice President told Cabinet friends. "He's just waiting for a chance to make that speech."

The three exceptions who are backing Humphrey are: Orville Freeman, Secretary of Agriculture, who was elected governor of Minnesota partly through Humphrey's campaigning, and once babysat for the Humphrey children as a student at the University of Minnesota.

Willard Wirtz, Secretary of Labor, with George Meany and the AFL-CIO, and Walter Reuther makes support for Humphrey natural.

Robert Weaver, Secretary of Housing and Urban Development, the one Negro in the Cabinet, Weaver expects to announce later.

Among the Democratic stalwarts around the country lining up for Humphrey are Fred Betts, Democratic National Committeeman in Colorado; Sen. Gale McGee in Wyoming; Arthur Courshon, Miami Beach banker; J. B. Fuqua in Georgia; and Sen. Ed Muskie in Maine; plus the probable support of Mayor Richard Daley of Chicago, Mayor James Tate of Philadelphia, and Gov. Richard Hughes of New Jersey.

French Spy

Through French intelligence sources, the Central Intelligence Agency has been anxiously trying to convince the French government that it had nothing to do with planting the revelations of the former French spy, Philippe Thyraud de Vosjoli, in Life magazine.

French newspapers have charged that the publication was inspired by the CIA.

Actually, this column broke the story—without CIA inspiration—last Aug. 19. We reported in detail how Soviet spies had penetrated French President Charles de Gaulle's inner circle and had planted misleading intelligence upon him. We suggested this may have contributed to his obsessive anti-American attitude.

We also revealed that the late President Kennedy sent De Gaulle a personal, hand-delivered letter warning him of the Soviet penetration. De Gaulle spurned the warning.

All facts have now been reported, eight months later, by Life magazine.

Saugerties Ambulance

203 Washington Ave.
Saugerties New York

Editor, The Freeman:

The idea of municipality tries to have a choice of facilities, services and housing that will appeal to a wide variety of people. One of the ways to do this and to insure orderly progress is to have a zoning law. Some years ago the Village government and the Village residents saw the need for such a law and designated certain areas as residential to insure that there would be housing available for those who chose to live in a quiet area. Some people prefer to live in a busy area amid the hustle and bustle of the working world, others prefer peace and quiet. Each is entitled to his choice and according to Village law each has his choice.

The Saugerties Ambulance Corp. is presently housed and operating in violation of that law.

There is no one in the village who will deny that the Ambulance Service is a good service to have. That this service be maintained at the expense of the rights of others is morally and legally wrong.

A number of Village residents who live in the zoned area brought legal action to make the Village enforce its law. Their case was upheld by the State Supreme Court on the original action and on the appeal. These petitioners, having won their case by due process of law agreed not to enforce the injunction until the Ambulance Service had had time to find other quarters. This the Ambulance Service stated it had been unable to do because it could not pay the higher rents. The Village Board then appointed a panel to seek out suitable locations for the ambulances. The panel reported back to the Village Board that it had found four locations, all within the Village limits. The Ambulance Corp. has flatly stated that it cannot pay the rents asked. The Corp. pointedly refused all requests by the panel to see its books so that they could have some basis for deciding what a reasonable rent might be. The Ambulance Corp. is certainly within its rights as a private business to refuse to show its books. But this private corporation cannot have it both ways. It cannot continue to insist on the rights of a private business and also on the right of a Public Corp. to locate and operate when and how it pleases under the law.

Is the Ambulance Corp., as a part of the private enterprise system, which is the backbone of this country, so lacking in imagination and initiative that they cannot figure out a way to pay the Three of the facilities found by the panel quoted rents ranging from $125-150 per month to house at least two ambulances. All three stated that they are willing to negotiate and offer long term leases. On the basis of these figures rent would be from $1500-1800 per year. Now, how to raise this rent money?

There are over 15,000 people in Saugerties Township. Not less than 2,500 of them are wage earners. The Ambulance Service also services areas other than Saugerties Township. There must be wage earners in the other areas too. A very real one dollar subscription drive by the Ambulance Service would raise more than enough money for the yearly rental.

Any private business can tell you that in this day and age it takes some doing to operate in the black. It would require some initiative on the part of this private business to finance its own undertaking.

This attitude of "we are here (illegally) and we insist on staying at the expense of the rights of others" is the attitude being taken by an organization that professes to be a very real one dollar subscription drive by the Ambulance Service would raise more than enough money for the yearly rental.

At one of the hearings a lady shouted, "If they (the petitioners) don't want to live next to an ambulance service why don't they move?" THAT IS EXACTLY what those people thought they were doing when they moved into the zoned area. The Supreme Court has upheld their contention twice.

The Ambulance Corp. which has every right to operate as a private business should do so and put its private enterprise brains to work. The Village Officials may have to do their unpleasant duty but if we as citizens cannot expect that our laws be upheld what have we got to look forward to?

Sincerely,

Editor, The Freeman:

Says Statement False
In the "Freeman" of the 23rd, page 3, column 3, you carried an article which reported Saugerties Town Chairman Frank Costello, as stating that "...at the last meeting of the Saugerties Democratic Committee, the candidacy of Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick for the U. S. Senate was unanimously endorsed." This statement is completely false. This is the second time in the past few months that Mr. Costello has taken liberty with the wishes of the Democrats he represents. On the first occasion, Mr. Costello seconded the nomination of Mr. Resnick at the Democratic Convention saying that the "Town of Saugerties" seconds the nomination of Mr. Resnick. In reality, Mr. Costello never bothered to poll the Saugerties delegation to determine if this was their position. As a member of that Saugerties delegation, I did not intend to, nor do I now intend to, support the candidacy of Mr. Resnick, as Mr. Resnick, in my opinion, is not running for the U. S. Senate; rather, Resnick is making it evident that he is using his candidacy as a sounding board against Senator Robert Kennedy.

I cannot support a candidate that allows personality to cloud judgment; that refuses to debate issues pertinent to the office he seeks; nor one who stoops to innuendo and character assassination to gain public office.

What Mr. Costello seeks to gain by reporting that the Saugerties Democratic Committee "unanimously" endorses Mr. Resnick's candidacy, I cannot determine. However, the truth of the matter is that the Resnick vote was not unanimous and Mr. Costello knows it.

As to Senator Kennedy's support in the Town of Saugerties, Mr. Gardner, the president of the Saugerties Democratic Club, is not alone. I, for one, informed Senator Kennedy of my support prior to Senator Kennedy's decision to seek the nomination for President.

Worst Crisis Since 1931

William McChesney Martin Jr., who helped put the economy together after the crash of 1931, as head of the New York Stock Exchange, now as head of the Federal Reserve System warned that "The nation is in the midst of the the worst financial crisis since 1931."

In 1931, the problem was deflation. Today it is inflation and equally intolerable, Martin said. The remedy he urged is a tax increase, reduction of the budgetary deficit and correction of the balance of payments. Otherwise, he saw no escape from disaster.

"The nation cannot tolerate price rises almost twice the gains in production," Martin pointed out. "Nor can it ignore the warnings of foreign friends. After all, the Europeans are depositors in this country and a banker doesn't kick a depositor in the teeth."

The board's first recent action, raising its discount rate to 5.5 per cent five weeks after it jumped from 4.5 per cent to 5 per cent March 14, was its official move to try to stem inflation. But as Martin said, much more is needed.

The tug of war between President Johnson and Chairman Wilbur Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee has prevented Congress from increasing taxes because the President has not agreed to cutting nondefense spending enough.

Johnson no longer needs to think of the effect of a tax increase and spending cut on his own political future, now that he has bowed out of the race. But Congress does. Johnson can perform another act of statesmanship by accepting Congress' challenge to cut spending by $8 billion. He would then be in a position to demand that Congress in turn match his act by increasing taxes 10 per cent.

Power Mower Time

Now that we have had some much-needed rain, we can look for greener and higher grass. And this will mean that the seasonal chore of keeping the grass cut is at hand.

A note of warning in this regard for those who use power mowers. The National Safety Council points out that 100,000 persons annually are injured by rotary power mowers.

The most common injury is caused by objects thrown by power mowers. A rock, a piece of wood or wire, hidden in the grass can lead to serious injury.

There are several ways operators of law mowers can cut down on the number of injuries. First, clear the area of all loose objects that might be struck in the course of cutting. Make sure children and pets are safely out of the way of the mower. Know the performance capability of your machine and keep it properly serviced and repaired.

Above all, never leave the mower unattended. And remember, never try to unclog a mower while the motor is running.

At the start of the season, make sure the mower is cleaned and then lubricated.

Meals for Pre-School

Children should not go hungry. Surely, this great nation can subscribe to that principle. Congress felt that it could and voted for Federal contributions to provide meals for pre-school children in poverty areas.

The bill would broaden the 20-year-old national school lunch program by providing meals for the first time for children not yet in school. Through federal grants to states, meal programs would be set up in institutions that provide day care for children in poverty areas or in areas where there are high concentrations for working mothers.

It is also designed to close the summer hiatus in the school lunch program by providing meals to school children in day camps or recreation centers during the summer vacation. It should provide for hundreds of thousands of children—those too young for school or during the summer months when the school cafeteria is closed. It recognizes that the need of children to eat does not coincide with the school calendar.

Unlike the school lunch program, the pre-school program would enable children to obtain meals free or at reduced costs if they cannot pay. The cost of a meal is about 20 cents, of which 14 cents is contributed by the Federal government, one cent by the state and local governments and the remainder by the school children, who may be forgiven their share if they cannot pay. Properly operated, the new pre-school program should assure young children nutritional meals wherever it is in operation.

If as is widely believed, gambling creates the funds for much of the crime syndicate in this country, then Congress should grant the Federal Government jurisdiction over gambling heretofore reserved to the states. A bill to that effect is a natural consequence of the Supreme Court's ruling that it is unconstitutional to require gamblers to register.

Henry J. Taylor Says Selling Us Down the River

Courageous Federal Reserve Board Chairman William McChesney Martin Jr., in his agonized warnings on April 19 quoted an unnamed Congressman who asked him, "Will financial disaster strike this year if we don't act?" Receiving a negative answer, the legislator said, "Good, then after I'm re-elected I'll help you with the problem."

That's the guts of our peril—politics with a capital P. Meanwhile, the same faithless guardians of the public interest who are selling us down the river expect us to reward them at the polls.

Most troubles in our lives do not come because we do not know what to do. They come because we do not do what we know we should do. So it is also with nations.

What is folly in the family cannot be wisdom in the kingdom.

It is utterly ridiculous to deny the relationship between always spending beyond income and inflation (air forced into a balloon) and bust. Yet there are votes in them that hills if you can fool the people by printing more and more paper money—which, is exactly what the Great Society has been doing.

It takes no brains (or character) to promise people pie in the sky—only the mouth to say it. What is easier than to tell people you are "giving" them something without letting them know they are paying for it? And anybody can insist that there must be no poverty. But solutions are harder than that.

Years ago California nearly elected Upton Sinclair with his paper-money rocking chair, debt-defying Townsend Plan to "end poverty in California." It is now generally agreed that the Townsend Plan would have ended California but not poverty.

Today, with the war on poverty a local and national shambles, the Social Security and welfare programs loaded with abuse, and the reckless refusals to put priorities on the over-all spending, millions ask how long this prostitution of our wealth can continue without wrecking every decent concept of our democratic system. For in not one single major instance are the politicians themselves sacrificing anything whatever to stop the dollar's dwindling purchasing power and protect our savings.

When President Johnson signed another billion-dollar bill recently he said, "I hope the Congress which has already done so much for so many will do just a little more." Hogwash, absolute hogwash.

This not only misstates the source of our wealth, but such exuberant boasts about giving everyone "more, more, more" enhance the inflation.

A government—any government—is a spender, not an earner. It provides no wealth. The wealth must be provided by the people. Anything that a government says it will "give" the people, it must first take away from the people. And how much government overspending and debt we can stand is the great standing question.

Deficit financing—borrowing to spend more than your income—means debt, inflation and unsound money. As a government continues to spend beyond its income and borrows more to pay its bills the inflation spreads like spotted fever.

This cannot be stopped until the deficit financing is stopped. And every thoughtful citizen should harken to what courageous Mr. Martin says about that: "We have been living in a fool's paradise and show promise of dawdling over solutions, just as the British did."

Coupled with the "more, more, more" boasts, the suicide of the Great Society's wage-price guidelines lights the additional inflationary fuse. Everyone has to run faster than Alice just to stay even.

Mr. Martin again: "I am convinced that our national productivity gains of three per cent this year compared with wage raises in the order of seven per cent and our poor balance-of-payments figures will lead us to uncontrolled inflation and eventual deflation or depression—unless checked as soon as possible."

If we do not use our eyes for seeing we will use them for weeping. If we pay attention to the politicians' mouths instead of heeding courageous men of brains and character like William McC. Martin, we've had it, folks. The economic and military security of the United States goes down the drain.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

We live in a Chinese house. It has moon gates and lacquered tables and bamboo shoot mattresses. The dog wears Scotch Tape on his eyes. The housekeeper says: "Y'all kumquat!" I write with a long brush. My father looked like a laundryman before he arrived. We let him sit in his room and play with fortune cookies. Some go off.

Last night a woman who introduced herself as Sylvia Wahrburg—which isn't Cantonese—arrived with fourteen cartons of Chinese food. The steam fogged me. She said it was for us, free, gratis, cuferroni, up your dragon sleeve. Her brother, Ted Warner is, it seems, a frennamine.

Everybody became excited. My old man almost dropped his opium pipe. When we opened the cartons, the kitchen looked as though a boiler of the Titanic just blew. I could have pressed three suits.

We had fantail shrimp, shrimp with lobster, shrimp with fried rice, chow har kew shrimp, shrimp roll, egg roll, chicken Cantonese, barbecue ribs, white rice, duck, hot mustard, soy sauce, almond cookies and Chinese tea.

The women were frantic for it. They zoomed their noses up and down and made big "Ahhs." The plates were shoveled on the dining room table. Dad said: "I'll have some pancakes." I said: "Me, too." The Irish Chinese are the worst kind.

The three K's—Kelly, Karen and Kathy—ate as though Mao was closing in on us. They kept assuring themselves that they would be hungry again in an hour. My father ate the pancakes. The last Chinese he saw that he liked was Warner Oland.

The last time I ate Chinese food was between Hong Kong and Lo Wu. There is a retreat high up in the rocky hills off the bay called Dragon Inn. It is not for Caucasians. The only way foreigners ever get there is accidentally.

The tables were wooden and circular. In 10 minutes, my stomach was on a roller coaster. My host, Jimmy Chen, had clipped me for a couple of silk suits and some shirts. It was very easy not to eat all night long.

First they take you out on a balcony where some weird fish with whiskers are swimming in a pool. You are requested to pick out the one you like. Then they chop, its head off, cook the whiskers and, for all I know, throw the rest of it away. Those eyes had an accusing look.

There was much jollity in the Chinese language which, my host assured me, loses something in the translation, so he didn't. The first course was shark fin soup with crab cream. My soup spoon rowed across that mess and back again 17 times.

This was followed with stewed chicken with honey and ginger. That too lost something in the translation. That ritta chicken was true. Chen told me that I would faint with joy over the next delicacy, which turned out to be something I always give up for Lent: stewed pigeon with oyster sauce. I think they fed the oysters to that bird when he was still on the wing.

You haven't lived until you have caressed your taste buds with Duck's feet. Chuck Tang, Mine were medium rare and I couldn't help but wonder what happened to the rest of that duck. They might at least have cleaned his nails.

Someone skipped the duck's feet in favor of Frog with Egg Prant. This, dear buddy of mine, is not frog's leg in miniature. This is the whole frog with those hyperthyroid eyes. I resisted the impulse to devour it and said I have to save a little room for the next dish.

I wish I hadn't. The next dish was braised ox-tripe. How can anyone braise that glop? One of the guests, I think it was Fong the dressmaker, suddenly reverted to the beginning and ordered a portion of hot chicken blood soup. The shoe man from Cameron Road roared laughing and said he'd have soup too: pig's lung with vegetable.

By midnight I was ready to eat the bamboo curtain. We drove back down to Kowloon by moonlight and Jimmy Chen picked his teeth and patted his belly.

Drew Pearson Says Hubert Builds His Own Image; Has Close-Knit Organization

WASHINGTON—When Vice President Humphrey delivered his recent speech on building bridges to China, most people figured that either he was breaking with President Johnson or had cleared his speech with the White House in advance. Real fact is that he had done neither.

It was a speech quite different from that of six months ago when he talked about communism with its head-militant, aggressive Asian, last week he talked about replacing "iron curtains" with "open doors."

"I look forward to the day when the great Chinese people, no longer victimized from within, take their place in the modern world," Humphrey said.

People who wondered about the speech didn't know that after its delivery the Vice President got a phone call from President Johnson congratulating him. They also didn't know that previously Johnson had told Humphrey to go out "on your own, make your own policy."

"It was a great speech," the President said after delivery.

HHH Organizes

Vice President Humphrey isn't making it official until today, but behind the scenes he's been making a lot of political hay. He now has a close-knit campaign organization, a top money raiser, and a braintrust, together with a lot of delegates quietly pledged around the nation.

Most interesting member of the Humphrey team is Dick Maguire, onetime money-raiser for John F. Kennedy and once a close friend of the Kennedy family. Today, however, Maguire is ensconced in the Mayflower hotel in Washington as treasurer of "United Democrats for Humphrey."

On the first occasion, Mr. Costello seconded the nomination of Mr. Resnick at the Democratic Convention saying that the "Town of Saugerties" seconded the nomination of Mr. Resnick. In reality, Mr. Costello never bothered to poll the Saugerties delegation to determine if this was their position. As a member of that Saugerties delegation, I did not intend to, nor do I now intend to, support the candidacy of Mr. Resnick, as Mr. Resnick, in my opinion, is not running for the U. S. Senate; rather, Resnick is making it evident that he is using his candidacy as a sounding board against Senator Robert Kennedy.

I cannot support a candidate that allows personality to cloud judgment; that refuses to debate issues pertinent to the office he seeks; nor one who stoops to innuendo and character assassination to gain public office.

What Mr. Costello seeks to gain by reporting that the Saugerties Democratic Committee "unanimously" endorses Mr. Resnick's candidacy, I cannot determine. However, the truth of the matter is that the Resnick vote was not unanimous and Mr. Costello knows it.

As to Senator Kennedy's support in the Town of Saugerties, Mr. Gardner, the president of the Saugerties Democratic Club, is not alone. I, for one, informed Senator Kennedy of my support prior to Senator Kennedy's decision to seek the nomination for President.

Swinging Fathers at KHS With Folk, Rock Program

By JEAN F. DOLAN

The cossack-clad Collarmen came to town this week and their wake left an adoring teen crowd with new recording stars to revere.

The garb was religious but the beat was folk, folk-rock and pop at the swinging assembly in Kingston High School Wednesday afternoon. The sextet of seminarians from Mt. St. Alphonsus in Esopus has been gathering accolades and far-flung audiences as a new group with a message. Seeking to communicate through the medium of modern music, the young Collarmen establish instant identity with the young crowd.

The members of the group are Father James Bek ordained last year, Father Bill Grassman ordained in June, 1967, Chuck Beierwaltes, seminarian; Father Carlos Valles, also ordained last year; Father Ralph Bennett of Ellenville and Seminarian Frank Browne of Hurley round out the Redemptorists' answer to the Jefferson Airplanes.

Father Bek and his two brothers who are also priests have recorded for CUCAR Recording Corporation prior to his tying up with the Esopus group. The Collarmen, too, have cut wax for CUCAR with two albums—So Many Faces and Time Passes on—to their credit.

Chuck Beierwaltes was a professional jazz-mambo drummer in Chicago and with the U.S. Army Band before joining the Redemptorist order. At 34, he is the oldest member of the group. Both Father Bek and Father Grassman compose as well as sing and play guitar. Father Bill has to his sing writing credits Ebony, about the church bombing in Birmingham when four little girls were killed.

Singing nuns and swinging clerics are not new on the recent music scene but the Collarmen are new in their distinctive professional sound and unique style.

Their program runs the gamut from country sound to really rock with ballads and waltz-schmaltz thrown in between.

Father Bek sums up the aims of the modern monk group when he says "today's folk singers may not be able to provide the complete answers" for these troubled times of the present generation fraught with problems of identity and buried fears, but "they are doing a service by getting the hidden feelings of this generation out into the light. At least you know you are not alone."

And obviously they made their mark with the audience at KHS. One student remarked "I was thinking that they were symbols of how religion has changed. They are interested in young people and they aren't stuffy."

Another KHS'er noted "these fellows are really good. You don't think of them as religious, but as very fine singers."

Religious or not, the response was emotional too. "They made me laugh and cry. What more could I ask?" What a beautiful way to end a school day, really professional group, funny and really enjoyable, really professional and predictions of a successful career in the recording world were a few of the random remarks by students filing out of the assembly.

And the Collarmen had chalked up another successful engagement on their ever widening, ever diversifying circuit.

COLLARMEN — Racing into the world are the singing, swinging Collarmen of Mt. St. Alphonsus, Esopus. The modern monks reach out to the young crowd through the medium of music and just incidentally they are right good.

Members of the group (L-R) are Seminarian Frank Browne of Hurley; Seminarian Ralph Bennett of Ellenville; Father Carlos Valles of Fajardo, Puerto Rico; Father Bill Grassman of Altadena, Calif.; Father James Beck of Chicago, Ill., and Seminarian Chuck Beierwaltes of Chicago, Ill.

Glen Campbell: Singing Sensation

By MARY CAMPBELL

Frank Sinatra won the Grammy for the best male vocal performance on records last year and the year before. This year that honor went to Glen Campbell for the country-flavored record, "By the Time I Get to Phoenix."

Campbell is new to acclaim. He thinks about a question at an interview and answers it spontaneously but briefly, unlike many who arrive with the pump primed for colorful answers. He had his first standing ovation just this January, he says, and he thought the audience was getting up to leave.

Campbell was in New York for his first live performance here, at the Nashville Room of the Taft Hotel. This summer he'll be a TV host for the first time, on the Summer Smothers Brothers Show, for 12 or maybe 15 weeks, starting June 9. Neither first makes him tense.

Glen Campbell, 29, has an easy-going, natural manner, like somebody who isn't in show business at all.

He says, "I imagine I'll have butterflies when it comes time to tape the TV show. It's a good feeling, tapping it, to know, if you blow it you can do it over."

Campbell won Grammys (given by the National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences), this year in four categories, for two records he made during 1967. His "By the Time I Get to Phoenix" won as best male vocal performance and best contemporary male vocal performance. His "Gentle on My Mind" won as best country-western recording and best country-western male solo vocal performance.

Campbell's new single, "I Wanna Live," is on the best-selling charts. An album, "A New Place in the Sun," out in May, is his seventh for Capitol.

"Folk-country, pop-country, I don't care what they are, just a good song is all I'm looking for," Campbell says. "I've taken old country standards and made pop songs out of them really. Country music is much prettier now, softer, easier to listen to. It's gotten away from the bale of hay and wagon wheel in the barnyard. And it's going to get bigger and bigger."

"Country has modified a lot. Look at the way Eddy Arnold used to record and the way he records now. I think writers like John Hartford, who wrote 'Gentle on My Mind,' are responsible for a lot of the change in country music, writing something beside going out and getting drunk and leaving a wife or girlfriend."

The old school of country disc jockeys wouldn't play a country song if it had a horn on it, but now the old instruments, the fiddle and steel guitar, are going by the wayside. Now, country stations would play "The Impossible Dream" if I cut it. If they consider you a country artist, they'll play you."

Campbell feels he has the best of both the pop and the country worlds. His next tour will be in Canada, for 11 days, with the Merle Haggard country show. Then he'll appear in Anaheim, Calif., with the pop-jazz Brasil 66.

"I do the same material whether I'm with a country show or a pop show, except that on a pop show I won't do country songs that were hits only in the South."

Campbell was the seventh son of eight sons and four daughters, born on a farm near Delight, Ark. "Everybody played and sang," he says, "but I was the only one that started playing joints." He was with his uncle's western band in Albuquerque for five years, before going to Los Angeles in 1960.

Job Hunters—Get Papers In Order Now

Spring is summer job hunting season for many high school and college students. Students who will be taking a job for the first time and will need a social security number are urged by George J. Habernig, social security district manager, to apply now and avoid the rush.

Habernig said that, by applying now, the student will avoid unnecessary delay. In June the number of applications for social security cards is four to five times greater than in the other months of the year and some delays occur. Since employees need to see a new employee's social security card before he goes on duty, getting the card late could cause a delay in starting work, and result in missing a good job opportunity.

Habernig urged students not to wait until school is out to apply for their social security numbers. Applications may be obtained from the Kingston Social Security District Office located at 57 Albany Ave., or from most post offices.

T-T-Teen Scene

Sounds From Beantown

by LEI

When Kingston's Coffee-House is a reality, we are promised entertainment from the Boston-New York coffee-house circuit. Probably some of the entertainers will be part of what is known as the Boston Sound, which was born in coffee-houses, and which, sometimes, seems doomed to remain a coffee-house product.

Boston could never have been suspected of being a grooving scene. But it was the home of the Unicorn Coffee House, and of at least two discos which featured local rock groups—the Psychedelic Supermarket and the Boston Tea Party. These provided tiny chinks in the rocky New England soil for the roots of hopeful new musical groups. They sprang up in profusion, though many were made up of young men from outside the Boston area. And the hype-up men, looking for something new to promote as they had the Nashville Sound and the Motown Sound, sprang on what was happening in Boston. How good this was for the Boston Sound is debatable.

Gets a Plug

Around the first of the year the plugs started for the "fabulous new Boston Sound". Beantown's disk jockeys, who had been trying to tell a cynical Eastern Seaboard that Boston was happening, reacted with joy as major record companies started signing Boston groups. Decca signed the Improper Bostonians. At least four groups (Orpheus, The Ultimate Spinach, The Beacon Street Union, and Phulph) were signed by MGM records. Elektra got the Earth Opera while Atlantic Records chose Bo Grumpus and the Apple Pie Motherhood Band (which has only changed its name three times in its brief career.) The Bead Game, The Street Choir, Butter, and Ill wind were among the many others given recording contracts.

College Crowd

Many of the makers of the Boston Sound were not even interested in professional playing, but were college students who made music for kicks on weekends—and couldn't have been less interested in becoming more deeply involved. They were not innovators, and there was no single, identifiable "sound" they had—the Boston Sound was a mishmash of the Liverpool Sound, the San Fran Sound, the New Orleans Sound, and all the others being well-copied by groups of songmakers who had met, often by chance in Boston. The resultant "Boston Sound" ranged from far-out psychedelic to way-in sweet stuff. Not surprisingly, some of the initial recordings either crawled with phoney studio sound, or reeked of amateurism.

Six months have passed. The publicity men are beginning to discover what their proteges could have told them a year ago, namely that they put the cart before the horse. When a genuine "sound" breaks, it doesn't need publicity men to shove it along like a rod without tires. And the young won't accept a development that's all publicity, with nothing new to publicize. Some of the Boston Soundmakers will make it. Some of them are good. But they'll make it on their own merits, and not as part of a "manufactured sound."

Youth in the News

Ulster County Teenagers continue to make news at home and some even on the national scene.

Washington Study

Alan D. Gordon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gordon, New-on Avenue, Phoenicia, has been selected as one of the 14 Colgate University students to take part in the 1969 Washington Study Group.

A 1966 graduate of Ontario Central School in Boiceville, Gordon is a dean's list student enrolled in a pre-medical program of study. He has also studied at the University of California at Berkeley and Columbia University.

As a member of Colgate's Washington Study Group, Gordon will spend the spring semester of the 1968-69 academic year in Washington where he will study the national political scene firsthand and engage in executive and legislative internships.

Colgate's first Washington Study Group was pioneered in 1935 by Paul S. Jacobsen, professor of political science emeritus, and has been held continuously except for the interruption of World War II.

In Roto Mag

Under the heading of High School World in the nationally circulated Scholastic Roto Magazine, Miss Kay Kirk of New Paltz, is reported in her activities as a trick rider in rodeo events. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Kirk of 54 Old Ford Road. The story was produced by A. E. Woolley of New Paltz.

Miss Kirk has ridden and performed in the Eastern Rodeo Circuit for the last three years earning top honors and money for college. She is presently an art major at the State University of New York at New Paltz.

With spring weather at hand, she is hard at work in condition for the upcoming rodeo events. When asked what the one outstanding requisite for being a trick rider was, she replied, "Running a half-tone animal at full speed while spinning or climbing on it requires confidence in the animal and oneself."

Campus Preview

Eight students at the Ontario Central High School have registered for the Saturday Collegiate Program, an enrichment program for high school students conducted by the Ulster County Community College.

The program, conducted on Saturday mornings at the college's Stone Ridge campus, provides area high school students with a learning experience in higher education to whet their appetites for further study at the college level. Certificates are awarded to all participants completing the program.

Four of the Ontario students are enrolled in the Nature of Science seminar: Gordon Dayton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dayton, Bearville; Allan Malkis, son of Eugene Malkis, Woodstock; Keith Jenkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Jenkins, Shokan, and Ann Swenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Swenson, Lake Hill.

are enrolled in the Urbanization of America seminar: Clayton Horsey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Horsey, Woodstock; Thomas Raffaldi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Raffaldi Sr., West Hurley; Martin Wadler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Wadler, Pine Hill, and Carol Schussler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schussler, West Hurley.

Girls Stater

Nancy Bronner, of Milton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Oliva, has been chosen the Marlboro candidate for Empire Girls State. Miss Bronner is being sponsored by the Marlboro Chapter of the American Legion Auxiliary.

An eleventh grader, she has been a student of Marlboro Central School for four years and during this time has shown the ability to get along with others, and the quality of leadership that a good citizen should have. She is a member of F.H.A., Math Club, and Youth-in-Government. She also is a member of the Marlboro Chapter of the National Honor Society. At present she hopes to pursue a career in the field of biology or psychology or perhaps the Peace Corps.

Empire Girls' State will be held June 21-June 29 at the State University College at New Paltz, and is a part of a national youth-in-government program conducted in all fifty states. Each year the faculty of high schools throughout the state are asked to select an outstanding girl in the junior classes to attend Girls' State, with the American Legion Auxiliary having final approval.

Capacity Attendance at Benedictine Dance; 'Flapper Review' Presented

A capacity crowd attended the exceptionally well received by Benedictine Hospital Auxiliary's annual dance which was held Saturday, Apr. 20 in the Governor Clinton Hotel.

After dinner, entertainment was provided by the Sargent's Columnettes who presented a "Flapper Review" which was included picturesque painted posters of the 1920 era, complete with gay flappers, chrysanthemums and pennants.

Chairmen of the event were Mrs. Edward Costello and Mrs. Milton Grover, assisted by Mrs. Martin Golden, publicity; Mrs. Thomas Ingara, music; Mrs. Richard Larson, Mrs. Douglas Masterson, Mrs. Juanita Mann and Mrs. Joseph Smith, decorations.

A letter was received at The Freeman from the dance committee thanking the newspaper for "its excellent pre-coverage of the dance, as well as other activities of the auxiliary, and the local radio stations."

Proceeds will be donated towards the further reduction of the Auxiliary's $100,000 pledge to the Hospital Building Fund.

To Smooth Sauce

When white sauce lumps, you may be able to smooth out the mixture by beating vigorously with an egg beater. But for best results, stir the sauce from the bottom while cooking, for the mixture begins to thicken from the bottom of the pan.

YW Sketch Classes To Hold Exhibition

The annual exhibition of the YWCA Sketch Classes under the direction of Emily D. B. Hoystradt will open Monday afternoon April 29, 2:30 to 5:30. Tea will be served with the president of the Board of Directors, Miss Helen V. Bowen; Mrs. Peter D. Corsonnes, Miss Matilda Martin, directors; and Mrs. Frank W. Thompson Sr. trustee, serving at the tea table. The director and the members of the two classes invite all YWCA members and the public to this opening tea.

The exhibition will continue until Friday, May 2, in the lounge and hallway of the first floor of the association building. Evening class exhibitors include the Mmes. Warren Devo, George Dinege, William F. Murray, Louis R. Netter; and the Misses Sally Gallagher, Olive Marsh, Irene McDonough, Elsie J. Phillips, Agnes Scott Smith and Ruth N. Smith.

Morning class includes the Mmes. H. P. Blaber, William Bryant, Nora Cuff, James Delmege, George Ford, Frank Hoombeck, George Hill, Melvin Lafferty and Joseph Stinton.

Regional Meeting

The Ladies Auxiliary of Tilton Fire Company were host to 137 guests who attended the regional ladies auxiliary meeting at Tilton Fire Company on April 23. Master of ceremonies was Robert Casper.

Auxiliaries represented were Stone Ridge, High Falls, Kripplush-Lyonsville, Marletown, Hurley, Cottekill, Bloomington, Rosendale, Lomontville and Marletown.

The next regional meeting will be hosted by the Ladies Auxiliary of Bloomington Fire Company on Oct. 15. Refreshments were served.

Rummage Sales

The Mt. Marion Reformed Church will hold a rummage sale Friday and Saturday, May 3-4, on Partition Street, Saugerties, next to The Flower Garden and opposite the Bus Terminal. The sale will start at 9 a. m. and a variety of articles will be available.

St. Joseph's Altar-Rosary Society will sponsor a rummage sale Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at the stone house, corner of Green Street and Maiden Lane, from 9:30 a. m. to 4 p. m. Donations may be left at 137 Washington Avenue.

Sorosis of Kingston

Members of Sorosis of Kingston met Monday, Apr. 22, at the home of Mrs. Thomas Reynolds where a fashion show was presented by the Home Economic Class of the high school under the direction of Miss Muriel Ferrara, and the Industrial Sewing Department of Board of Cooperative Educational Services, directed by Mrs. Gwyn Thomas. The garments were made and modeled by the students.

First prize in the high school group was awarded to Joanne Schuppe and Geoffrey DeVoe was presented first prize in the industrial group. Each participating student received a token gift. Judges were the Mmes. Vincent Carr, William McVey and James Shellhorse.

The next meeting of Sorosis will be on May 6 at the home of Mrs. John Gill.

4-H Fashion Review

Alcaraz Writes Own Book Against Giants

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Luis Alcaraz wrote a chapter of his biography for the San Francisco Giants, but made them pay dearly. It cost the Giants a victory.

The 26-year-old rookie third baseman completed the first chapter Friday night by slamming a three-run homer with two out in the ninth inning, giving the Los Angeles Dodgers a 4-1 victory over the Giants.

"We didn't have a book on him," said hard-luck loser Ray Sadecki, who entered the ninth with a one-hitter and a 1-0 lead before Willie McCovey's error opened the gates for four unearned runs.

"That was the first time I've ever faced Alcaraz. I threw him a lot of curves earlier and got him out, but I used a fast ball in the ninth and was surprised he pulled it so well."

Bob Veale also threw two bad pitches and saddled himself with another loss as the St. Louis Cardinals beat him and the Pittsburgh Pirates 2-1 on the seventh inning.

Mets Error Fatal
In other National League

night games, the Cincinnati Reds took advantage of the New York Mets' loose fielding and Tony Perez' hitting for a 3-1 triumph and Sonny Jackson's bat backed Pat Jarvis as Atlanta tripped Philadelphia 3-1.

In the afternoon, the Chicago Cubs sent Houston to its sixth straight loss 3-2 on Lou Johnson's run-scoring single in the ninth and the four-hit pitching of Bill Hands.

The Dodgers mobbed Alcaraz after his first major league homer snatched the victory, but the skinny Puerto Rican was the most excited.

"When I turn first base, Gilliam (first base coach Jim Gilliam) said it was gone and I couldn't believe it," Alcaraz said. "I went crazy."

Runs Full Speed
Instead of trotting around the bases, he ran full speed.

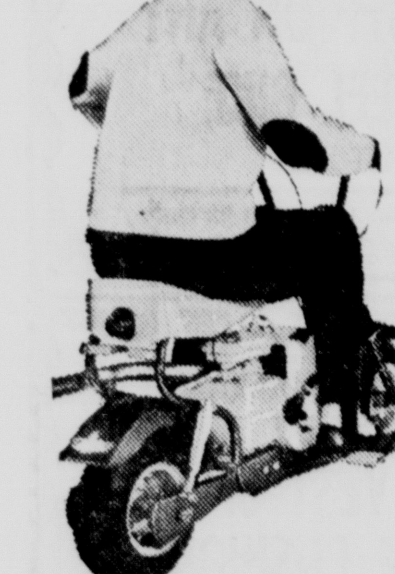

Alcaraz, who led the Texas League in hitting last year with a .328 average and 22 homers, raised his average to .231 this season.

Sadecki got him out twice before Alcaraz slammed his first extra base hit of the season for his first runs batted in.

Two bloop hits and McCovey's ground out in the first inning had given the Giants their lead and Sadecki struck out 11 and gave up only a single to Zoilo Versalles in the fourth inning protecting it until his defense failed.

McCovey dropped Versalles' pop fly to open the ninth and Jim Lefebvre later singled home Versalles with the tying run before an intentional walk set up Alcaraz, ending Sadecki's eight-game winning streak.

Ties Ted Williams With 521 Homers

Mick's New Target-Foxx Record

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer

The go-go Yankees and their mini-bats still get a lift every now and then from Mickey Mantle, who's not quite ready to forget the long ball fashion of the past.

New York did it both ways Friday night, riding five stolen bases and a light attack to a 3-0 lead over Detroit and then getting a two-run Mantle homer to wrap up a 5-0 three-hitter for Mel Stottlemyer.

The homer was the 521st of Mantle's career, tying him for fourth place on the all-time list with Ted Williams. Ahead are Jimmy Foxx's 534, Willie Mays' 565 and Babe Ruth's 714.

In other American League games Friday, Chicago halted St. Louis' Pittsburgh 2-1 and Los Angeles defeated San Francisco 4-1.

Opposite Field Homer
Orlando Cepeda tagged him for an opposite field homer in the fourth inning on a "lazy slider" and McCovey hit a "slider that had no zip" as Bob Gibson picked up his first triumph with a seven-hitter for St. Louis' fourth straight victory.

"It's not the breaks," Veale insisted. "I just can't get things rolling. If I had shut them out, I would have been in business."

Two bad throws by catcher Jerry Grote and one by loser Tom Seaver helped Cincinnati to all its runs as Perez drove in one with a sacrifice fly and set up another with a hit.

Jackson drove in two runs for Atlanta with singles, including the tie-breaker in the seventh as Jarvis gained his first victory with a six-hitter.

Johnson's hit for the Cubs came with the bases loaded and none out against Larry Dierker with the score tied. Billy Williams, who singled in an earlier run, set up the inning with a leadoff double.

Miller Alters Style To Lead Nelson Golf

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Even the veteran pros change their style during a round when they discover they are unconsciously violating the rule for hitting the ball.

That's what happened to Miller Barber, the tour veteran from Sherman, Tex., in the $100,000 Byron Nelson Golf Classic Friday. His adjustment brought him into the lead at 36 holes with 135-five under par.

"I first realized that I had been hitting the ball at a slant and it was going to the right when I drove into the water on 14," said the balding 37-year-old.

"So I started hitting it perpendicular and never had any trouble thereafter."

Barber bagged a six-foot birdie on 15 and got two more birdies on the front nine.

He fired a two-under par 68 and took a one-stroke lead going into the third round over Jack McGowan, who set a competitive course record of 65 in pulling into a second place tie with Harold Henning of South Africa.

Henning had a 69 with a fabulous putting job getting him out of repeated trouble. He had only 25 putts for the day.

McGowan and Henning were tied at 136.

Gary Player, another South African, who led the tournament after a first round had his troubles Friday, including three-putting from six feet for a bogey and hitting a tree for another bogey. He managed only 71 and fell to a tie for fourth with Jack Montgomery, who shot par 70. Each had 137.

Arnold Palmer continued to shoot good golf despite a painful hip injury and his 68 pulled him into a tie for sixth at 139 with Kermit Zarley, who carded a 68.

Bunched at 140 were Bill Casper, Jack Nicklaus, Dale Douglass and Kel Nagle. Casper and Nicklaus fired 67s, Douglas 68 and Nagle 71 Friday.

Hockey Playoff Resumes Sunday

MONTREAL (AP) — Montreal meets Chicago in the fifth game of their best-of-7 Stanley Cup playoff Sunday afternoon, but chances are slim that goaltender Gump Worsley will be in the nets for the Canadiens.

Worsley, a 39-year-old veteran of 19 years of pro hockey, suffered a sprained neck Thursday night in Chicago as the Hawks won their first game of the series 2-1.

The Canadiens won the first three contests by 9-2, 4-1 and 4-2 scores. Sunday's fifth game will be televised nationally in the United States by the Columbia Broadcasting System starting at 2 p.m. EDT.

Mantle's homer was his third this year and was greeted with a standing ovation by the Yankee Stadium crowd. The ball was recovered and presented to him after the game.

"Can he catch Foxx this year?" "Yes," Mantle said. "I think I can. That's if I stay healthy."

Three of the steals set up runs for the Yankees. "We've got to swing a lead bat as he play that way," said Manager Ed Stange.

Volleyball Slate Begins Action

The Saugerties Athletic Association's girls volleyball league swings into action Monday night at the High School gym with two double headers.

The nine team circuit was organized from the 80 girls who registered to play. All teams will face each other once in a three game series, with the champion to be determined by the best won-lost record for the 24-game slate.

Monday's games will see Tonneson vs. Graham and Smith vs. Mergendahl at 7:30 and Bogert vs. Kramer and Whitney vs. Sharrett at 8:15 p.m.

On Tuesday, it's Hamilton vs. Tonneson and Bogert vs. Graham at 7:30 and Whitney vs. Mergendahl and Sharrett vs. Kramer at 8:15 p.m.

Alcaraz Writes Own Book Against Giants

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Luis Alcaraz wrote a chapter of his biography for the San Francisco Giants, but made them pay dearly. It cost the Giants a victory.

The 26-year-old rookie third baseman completed the first chapter Friday night by slugging a three-run homer with two out in the ninth inning, giving the Los Angeles Dodgers a 4-1 victory over the Giants.

"We didn't have a book on him," said hard-luck loser Ray Sadecki, who entered the ninth with a one-hitter and a 1-0 lead before Willie McCovey's error opened the gates for four unearned runs.

"That was the first time I've ever faced Alcaraz. I threw him a lot of curves earlier and got him out, but I used a fast ball in the ninth and was surprised he pulled it so well."

Bob Veale also threw two bad pitches and saddled himself with another loss as the St. Louis Cardinals beat him and the Pittsburgh Pirates 2-1 on Tim Lincecum's homer in the seventh inning.

Ties Ted Williams With 521 Homers

Mick's New Target-Foxx Record

By HAL ROCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The go-go Yankees and their mini-bats still get a lift every now and then from Mickey Mantle, who's not quite ready to forget the long ball fashion of the past.

New York did it both ways Friday night, riding five stolen bases and a light attack to a 3-0 lead over Detroit and then getting a two-run Mantle homer to wrap up a 5-0 three-hitter for Mel Stottlemyer.

The homer was the 521st of Mantle's career, tying him for fourth place on the all-time list with Ted Williams. Ahead are Jimmy Foxx's 534, Willie Mays' 565 and Babe Ruth's 714.

In other American League games Friday, Chicago halted its season-opening 10-game losing streak by nipping Minnesota

3-2, Boston rapped Baltimore 6-

3, Washington outlasted Cleveland 5-4 in 14 innings and Oakland outslugged California 8-4.

In the National League, Cincinnati tripped New York 3-1, Atlanta dropped Philadelphia 3-1, Chicago edged Houston 3-2, St. Louis took Pittsburgh 2-1 and Los Angeles defeated San Francisco 4-1.

Mantle's homer was his third this year and was greeted with a standing ovation by the Yankee Stadium crowd. The ball was recovered and presented to him after the game.

Three of the steals set up runs for the Yankees. "We've got to play that way," said Manager

Ralph Houk. "We don't have enough power to wait for the long ball."

Chicago Manager Eddie Stange nonchalantly the White Sox's streak-breaker, saying, "My food's going to taste the same; I'm going to sleep the same."

And he again took his postgame stroll in the outfield, swinging a lead bat as he walked.

Davis Hits Homer

Tommy Davis homered for

Chicago and Minnesota pitcher Dave Boswell's throwing error set up the other two White Sox runs in the sixth.

Lee Stange pitched six innings of relief allowing just three hits and Mike Andrews' seventh-inning homer broke a tie helping the Red Sox past the Orioles.

Run-scoring doubles by Joe Foy and Reggie Smith knocked in the final two Boston runs in the ninth.

Ed Stroud scored Washington's tying run in the ninth and then doubled home the winner in the 14th against Cleveland. A pair of clutch singles by rookie Del Unser in the seventh and ninth twice tied the game for the Senators.

Frank Howard and Fred Valentine homered for Washington and Dennis Higgins earned the victory with five innings of scoreless relief.

Tony Horton had a two-run shot and Max Alvis rapped four hits for Cleveland.

Rick Monday's run-scoring single broke a 3-3 tie in the fourth inning and Oakland went on to score three more runs in the frame to beat the Angels.

John "Blue Moon" Odom got the victory with help from Jack Aker.

Smallest (But Strongest) Softball Loop Opens May 13

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Sports Editor

Only three local softball teams have evinced an interest to compete in the 1968 City Softball League which is scheduled to open its season on May 13.

This despite the fact that a brand new $25,000 lighting complex was built expressly for night softball at Block Park. But Superintendent of Recreation Andrew Murphy III, who heads the league, is optimistic the drastically reduced five-team setup will be the strongest in local history. It remains, of course, the smallest field ever.

The reason? Two of the finest teams in the Hudson Valley area have come into the fold to join with Perry's Rest, Royal Grill and the newly-created Yallum's.

Newcomers are no less than Red White's of Poughkeepsie, the 1967 New York State Ama-

Perry's in Opener

Opening games on May 13 send the defending regular and Shaughnessy champions — Perry's Grill against the runners-up Royal Grill. The second game is between Yallum's and Club 99. Red White's will be featured in a double-header on Tuesday, May 14. They will meet Club 99 in the opener at 7:15 p.m. and Perry's Rest at 8:30 p.m.

"This is certainly the finest softball talent ever assembled in a local league," says Murphy.

Each team will play a 16-game schedule, followed by the Shaughnessy which pairs first and third and second and fourth place teams.

All games will be scheduled at Block Park on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. Doubleheaders will be the rule, with first game scheduled at 7:15 p.m. and the night cap following 15 minutes later.

With the calibre of talent involved in the league this year, Murphy estimates that a seven-inning game will be played in slightly more than an hour. Nearly every team in the circuit is fortified with first rate pitching.

Rate Ong Finest

Red White's have Red Ong, who is rated by some of the greatest softball pitchers in the Hudson Valley. Club 99 makes a counter claim for their own Skip Eggleston. Both hurlers are well known to local softball buffs.

Perry's will have fabulous Billy Costello, regarded by many as the finest softball pitcher ever developed in Kingston.

Royal Grill will back its ace hurler, George Norton, with a first rate defensive team. Norton and Costello are two of the winningest softball pitchers in this area in the past five years. Yallum's, the new entry, will build its team around Richie Hoffman, a former local ace who returns to city action after a brilliant season at Ellenville last year.

Excellent seating accommodations will be available at the attractive Block Park setting. Parking is no problem and there is no admission charge for the games.

Everything appears to be first class, but the burning question remains: Why only three local teams in what should be the greatest softball year in history?

Second This Week

Jack Ferraro Slams Another Biggie-726

Jack Ferraro rolled a 584 in the Invitational Class this week. But in between he had a couple of really big ones—a 735 whopper in the Mid-City 4-Man Classic and 726 in the International League.

He fashioned the 735 series off games of 250, 255 and 230. In the International session, he opened with 213 and added 258 and 255.

Even with the 584 that would add up to a rousing 2045 "all events" for the week. This adds up to a cool average of 227 pins per game in a season conspicuously devoid of consistent high scores.

At the moment, Jack, who has rolled innumerable "700" triples, ranks second and fourth on the season's high score parade. Dick Howard holds the lead with 751.

Team results: Morgan Hill Poultry (3)—Frank Ferrendino 606; Jack Ferraro 726, Charlie's Rocket Car Wash (0)—Kildy Corrado 214-589; Chris Gallo 612.

Smallest (But Strongest) Softball Loop Opens May 13

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Sports Editor

Only three local softball teams have evinced an interest to compete in the 1968 City Softball League which is scheduled to open its season on May 13.

This despite the fact that a brand new $25,000 lighting complex was built expressly for night softball at Block Park. But Superintendent of Recreation Andrew Murphy III, who heads the league, is optimistic the drastically reduced five-team setup will be the strongest in local history. It remains, of course, the smallest field ever.

Two of the finest teams in the Hudson Valley area have come into the fold to join with Perry's Rest, Royal Grill and the newly-created Yallum's.

Newcomers are no less than Red White's of Poughkeepsie, the 1967 New York State Ama-

Perry's in Opener

Opening games on May 13 send the defending regular and Shaughnessy champions — Perry's Grill against the runners-up Royal Grill. The second game is between Yallum's and Club 99.

Red White's will be featured in a double-header on Tuesday, May 14. They will meet Club 99 in the opener at 7:15 p.m. and Perry's Rest at 8:30 p.m.

"This is certainly the finest softball talent ever assembled in a local league," says Murphy.

Each team will play a 16-game schedule, followed by the Shaughnessy which pairs first and third and second and fourth place teams.

All games will be scheduled at Block Park on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. Doubleheaders will be the rule, with first game scheduled at 7:15 p.m. and the night cap following 15 minutes later.

With the calibre of talent involved in the league this year, Murphy estimates that a seven-inning game will be played in slightly more than an hour. Nearly every team in the circuit is fortified with first rate pitching.

Rate Ong Finest

Red White's have Red Ong, who is rated by some the greatest softball pitcher in the Hudson Valley. Club 99 makes a counter claim for their own Skip Eggleston. Both hurlers are well known to local softball buffs.

Perry's will have fabulous Billy Costello, regarded by many as the finest softball pitcher ever developed in Kingston.

Royal Grill will back its ace hurler, George Norton, with a first rate defensive team. Norton and Costello are two of the winningest softball pitchers in this area in the past five years. Yallum's, the new entry, will build its team around Richie Hoffman, a former local ace who returns to city action after a brilliant season at Ellenville last year.

Excellent seating accommodations will be available at the attractive Block Park setting. Parking is no problem and there is no admission charge for the games.

Everything appears to be first class, but the burning question remains: Why only three local teams in what should be the greatest softball year in history?

Colonial Race To Bricklayers

Bricklayers Local 14 bowlers have won the 1967-68 Colonial City championship. The Frank Ferrendino 606; Jack Ferraro 726, Charlie's Rocket Car Wash (0)—Kildy Corrado 214-589; Chris Gallo 612.

Team personnel include Walter Ten Eyck, Rich Richards, Vince Micari, Set Jocelyn and James Strubel.

Jack Hines led individual averages with 171 and rolled high series of 676. Bob Whispell topped the solos with 256. Team highs were Ulster Engineering 935 and Three Brothers Egg Farms 2923.

Order of finish:

Bricklayers Local, Nytralite, Independents, Ulster Engineering, WGB Oil Clarifiers, Three Brothers Egg Farms, Kingston Oil, Ivan's Inn, J&G Drywall and Van Tassell Paint Store.

Keith Hamilton led final night's shooting with 226-580. He was the only qualifier.

Team results: Three Brothers Egg Farms 3, WGB Oil Clarifiers 0; Van Tassell Paint Store 1, J&G Drywall 2; Nytralite 1, Ulster Engineering 1; Ivan's Inn 0, Bricklayers Local 3; Independents 2, Kingston Oil Supply 1.

Catskill Tops Sawyer Netmen

Jim Gulderstein of Catskill took the third singles match, going overtime to defeat Saugerties Mike Harder, 10-8, and clinched a 4-1 tennis win (non-league) over the visiting Sawyers yesterday.

The Gulderstein-Harder match, by far the best of the day, according to the Saugerties coach, was the third straight singles win by Catskill and locked up the match.

The lone Sawyers' win came in the final doubles match when Bruce Luhrs teamed with Carl Ferrone to down Joe Warner and Fred Riccolono, 8-4, but the match was long over.

The results:

Ricky Buck (C) d. Ward Borchert, 8-1

David Jenkins (C) d. Bruce Luhrs, 8-3.

Jim Gulderstein (C) d. Mike Harder, 10-4.

Buck Gulderstein (C) d. Borchert-Harder, 8-6.

Luhrs-Carl Ferrone (S) d. Joe Warner-Fred Riccolono, 8-4.

5-0 Tennis Win For KHS Squad

Kingston High's tennis team, serving notice on the rest of the DUSO League that it will be a team to be reckoned with, whitewashed Monticello, the visitors, 5-0 yesterday.

The Maroon's Dave Roberts got things rolling with a 10-3 romp over Gary Solomon.

Bill Zeeh followed by shutting out Bob Brown, 10-0 and then Roberts partner, Steve Loneragan, dumped Bob Roche, 10-4.

Roberts and Loneragan, Section Nine champions in doubles last year, hooked up to bury Jay Cohen and Steve White, 10-0 in the first doubles and Zeeh and Jim Boyd combined to ston John Garlick and Lou Andrews, 10-3.

The result:

Dispute Sawyer Win

Saugerties tracksters, led by the double hurdles wins by Roger Praetorius, held on to take a disputed 69-67 win over visiting Lourdes yesterday.

The Sawyers, who captured nine of the 16 events, won the meet unofficially, until the Lourdes coaching staff can get a clarification of the state ruling forbidding athletes from competing in three events (unless one of those events is a relay).

Praetorius, one of the handful of upperclassmen on coach Bud Smith's squad, captured the 180-low hurdles in 21.9 seconds, then came right back and took the 120-high hurdles in 16.2, beating out teammate Bill Benham.

Lourdes matched that with a double win by Brinton Dufford in the 100 and 220-yard dashes.

The protest came about when Lourdes' Dave Harnon was disqualified from the triple jump, costing Lourdes a second place.

Harnon, third place finisher in the low hurdles and second place winner in the long jump, took second in the triple jump with a leap of 36.3, seven inches short of Karl Jahn's 2:11.4.

New Paltz, capitalizing on double wins by Dana Otis and Larry Kenney, romped to an easy track victory over visiting Marlboro yesterday, rolling up an 84-43 score for the Huguenots' win in as many days.

Thursday afternoon, the Huguenots dumped Wallkill, 66½ to 60½, to record their first UCAL triumph. Yesterday's win upped NP's UCAL record to 2-1.

Otis, the winner of the low hurdles and triple jump, and Kenney, 440 and long jump victor, paced the Huguenots to 11 event first places. Otis charted a 21.8 clocking in the hurdles and a 4.2 leap in the triple jump. Both times were season marks for him.

Kenney's 440 time, 55 seconds flat, was his best this year and recorded the best winning jump for himself this year with a leap of 19-4½ in the long jump.

The score: New Paltz 84, Marlboro 43.

180 Low hurdles — Dana Otis (NP), Buddington (M), Brennan (NP). Time—0:21.8.

From then on, it was all Zappone. The All-UCAL pitcher blanked last year, Zappone pitched at Pine Bush the rest of the way.

In all, Zappone allowed three hits, including the two-run double by Mike Steele in the fourth, and chalked up 12 strikeouts against two walks.

Alexander, who allowed the Huguenots just two singles, had five whiffs and a pair of walks.

Nadel, perched in position to make it home with the winning tally, decided not to sit things out, and promptly stole third.

It was a wise move as Dane Barr's squeeze bunt (a sacrifice) brought him home.

The game, until that point, had been a hitless duel between the Huguenots' Ray Zappone and the Bushmen's Mike Alexander.

Once the Huguenots broke the scoring drought, NP followed, taking the lead.

The Huguenots, however, were not to be denied that chance at the crown, and the very next inning, racked up two runs and let Zappone carry the ball the rest of the way.

Dave Schober led off that fifth with a single. NP coach, Bill Freer, inserted the speedy Frank DuBois in as a pinch runner, and DuBois promptly stole second, putting himself in scoring position for the tying run.

Frank Nadel then bunted

Beacon's Charles Oris baffled Saugerties hitters with his hard, sidearm delivery yesterday, allowing the Sawyers just one scratch single en route to a 5-0 DCSSL shutout at Beacon.

Oris, who's sidearm delivery kept the Sawyers constantly off balance, gave up just a simple scratch, leadoff single to Skip VanBlaricum at the start of the third.

Oris, in pitching his stellar game, would get ahead of the Sawyer batters and then come across with a sharp fastball on the crossfire delivery and consequently picked up seven strikeouts while allowing just a lone walk.

The Sawyers chucker, Bruce Wrolsen, gave up six hits, one of them the run-producing double by Oris, while registering six whiffs and three passes to first. Oris, who scored off the double, had the game's only extra base hit and only earned run as the other quarter of markers were unearned, thanks to four errors by the Sawyers.

Oris, relying on the fastball, kept the Sawyers off balance throughout, according to Saugerties mentor, Pete Kramer. The two errors, Oris pitched to

Marlboro Trounces Rondout Nine, 14-9

Marlboro High's baseball team sunk Rondout Valley further into the cellar in the UCAL standings yesterday, scoring in every inning to hand the road bound Ganders a 14-9 setback.

Rondout, 0-3 in the UCAL while Marlboro is 3-1 actually outthit the Iron Dukes, 13-12, but couldn't get the extra base hits that proved so fruitful for the Dukes.

Marlboro jumped right out front, scoring three in the first after the visiting Ganders picked up a lone tally. In the second, the Dukes added another pair and was up, 5-1. Rondout, not giving up so easily, put together a six run rally in the top of the third.

The Dukes came right back in their half of the third, pouncing on Heinitz and his relief man, Terry Sahler, for five runs, to regain the lead—a lead the Dukes never lost.

That fourth saw Mike Pagano belt a three-run homer, the first of three other shots to go for extra sacks.

Marlboro's winning formula, despite being out-hit, combined the extra base blows with the

KHS Golfers Open With Win

Kingston High school's golfers opened the season with a 10-2 win over the Roosevelt High Presidents yesterday at the Staatsburg Golf club.

It was the 12th consecutive dual match win for the Maroon, who swept all four matches.

Kingston's Joe Bostic was low medalist with a 35. He recorded a 2½-2 victory over John Lea's 37.

The Maroon is hoping for a repeat of last year's championship performances in the DUSO and Section Nine ratings.

Coach Dick McCormick is happy with the team's showing.

The Maroon host Ontario on Monday at Twaitskill.

Ontario is fresh from an 8½-5½ victory over Catskill at Woodstock Country Club last night.

The results:

Ed Byman (K) d. Mike Hauko 2½-½.

Joe Bostic (K) d. John Leon 2½-½.

Werner Kolln (K) d. Dave Janukajis 3-0.

John Senter (K) d. Keith Benedict 2-1.

Ray's Slates Pair Of HVSL Tuneups

The Ray Chevrolet entry in the Hudson Valley Softball League will play an exhibition doubleheader Sunday with the Greenhaven State Prison, as a tuneup for the season opener.

The Ray team will travel to the prison Sunday, and expected to hurl the twinbill for the Kingston based team are Billy Costello and George Norton.

George Fisher will handle both games behind the plate.

Liberals Endorse
Martin, MajesticThe Ulster County Liberal Party met last night at the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union Office at 20
Cedar Street and endorsed George Majestic for the state assembly and Sheriff William B. Martin for reelection.Martin, in what may be a unique turn of events for Ulster County politics, also has the endorsement of the county's Conservative party.He was nominated by the Democrats at their March 23 convention.Majestic, who will face Ulster County Democratic Chairman Dr. Gerald P. Gorman in a primary battle, was the first Democratic supervisor to have been elected in the Town of Gardiner in over 50 years.He was a charter member in organizing many civic groups throughout the county, such as volunteer firemen, police organizations, and taxpayers associations.Sheriff Martin's Liberal vote was the margin of difference in 1965 when he became the first Democrat to be elected to the post in over 40 years, the Liberal's claim.Martin was a member of the New York State Police for 21 years and had charge of all that organization's activities in Ulster County prior to his re-irement.Street Sweep
Starts Monday
In Two WardsThe street cleaning schedule for the week of April 29 through May 3 in the city of Kingston has been announced as follows by the Public Works Department. Work will be done between the hours of 8 a. m. and 3 p. m.Monday, April 29, Wards 9 and 13; Tuesday, April 30,
Ward 10; Wednesday, May 1,
Ward 11; Thursday, May 2,
Ward 2 and Friday, May 3,
Ward 3.Residents are requested to refrain from on the street parking during the effective hours that scheduled day to insure a clean sweep down throughout the wards. Should inclement weather prevail, the schedule will be cancelled and the ward cancelled will be included in the published schedule for the week following.Speaking Tour
By John Dyson
In 3 CountiesJohn S. Dyson, Democratic candidate for Congress, will carry his campaign for the 28th Congressional seat to four speaking engagements in three of the District's five counties tonight.
Dyson will speak at the Catskill Democratic Victory dinner in Leeds, Greene County; the Town of Saugerties annual spring dinner in Saugerties, Ulster County; and to two Dutchess County affairs — the Town of Washington Democratic candidates appreciation night dinner in Millbrook and the annual spring dance of the Fishkill Democratic Club.Earlier in the day, Dyson attended the annual maple festival in the Town of Jefferson, Schoharie County.Local Market Is Robbed;
Men SoughtCity detectives are searching today for two negro men who robbed Caban's Market at 220
Downs Street late yesterday afternoon.The pair were reported to have entered the store at 5:38 and demanded that the propi-etor, Mrs. Mary Caban empty her cash register. They are alleged to have threatened to shoot her if she did not comply.
Mrs. Caban told police that one of the men had his hand in his pocket making a motion as though he had a gun.After taking $20, the two men fled the store and were last seen running in the direction of
St. Mary's Cemetery.Elks Launch
Fund CampaignThe Elks National Foundation, a charitable arm of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, has announced a special fund drive. The goal of $7 million is sought in 1968 through contributions from Elks across the nation.In commemoration of the 100th anniversary of the order, a special honor organization has been created for Elks who contribute $100 or more in 1968.
This is the Century Club, selected for the centennial year and denoting the minimum contribution sought.Kingston Elks Lodge 550 will participate.TONIGHT!

Dear Abby

Time for This Guy to Work

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: John and I have been married for seven years and I think I have a problem.

When we were first married, John decided that he wanted to go back to the university and get his B.A. degree, so I agreed to continue to work and support us so he could. John got his B.A., then decided he wanted a Masters, so I agreed to continue to work until he got that. Well, right after he got his Masters, he wanted his Ph.D., so I agreed to continue working.

I've supported both of us for seven years now. I will be 28 on my next birthday and would like to quit my job and have a family while I'm still young enough.

John could easily get a teaching position at the university and support us both, but he now says he's "out of the mood" of having a family, and he doesn't want me to quit working. I am at the end of my rope, and any comments would be appreciated.

DISTRESSED: Part of the problem is your reluctance to look John in the eye and tell him what is on your mind—or else why would you be writing to me? If necessary, practice in front of a mirror, and learn how to say (convincingly), "Look, Baby, I have had it with the working. Let's YOU support US for a change!"

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a 24-year-old "man" who has gone with a girl for four years, tells her she is "perfect" for him, and then balks at giving her an engagement ring? It's not the money because he is in business for himself and can well afford it.

He says an engagement ring is only a "symbol," but if I am so insecure that I need a "symbol" to be assured of his love for me, he will give me one—on the condition that I don't tell anybody.

I am about ready to throw in the towel. Can you help me?

DEAR FED: Any "man" who would offer a girl an engagement ring on the condition that "she doesn't tell anyone," is a little boy grown tall. And tell Junior that an engagement ring symbolizes that "THIS GIRL IS SPOKEN FOR"—so why the big secret?

DEAR ABBY: While driving thru a small city in upstate New York I became ill and a doctor hospitalized me for 15 days. I was in this semi-private room, and had a "roommate." My first "roomie" was a 10-year-old kid who watched TV around the clock. I was trapped in an oxygen tent and almost lost my mind.

My next "roomie" was brought into my room at 3 a.m. He'd had a snootful and missed a curve at 70 miles per hour. His wife tore in, hysterical, and proceeded to chew him out. She called him some interesting names, immediately repented, then stood outside the door and cried for two hours while her mother gave her the old "I-told-you-so" routine.

That afternoon about 500 relatives came to visit him. At least a dozen of them pulled out cigarettes and were just about to light up when they were calmly told by my roommate that the "guy in the other bed" was in an oxygen tent! I kept expecting to be blown to bits any minute. After they left, his wife sat on his bed and cried for another two hours.

By this time I was begging the nurses to put me in the morgue so I could get some rest.

My next roommate was a man whose wife adored him. She was there 16 hours a day, seven days a week and talked all the time. Somehow I got well enough to go home.

Abby, please print this. Maybe someone will remember it (God forbid!) he ever has to share a room in a hospital.

It's In The Stars —

("The wise man controls his destiny... astrology points the way.")

FORECAST FOR SUNDAY
April 28, 1968

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Don't incur unnecessary expense. Those who attempt to extract money promises may have selfish motives. Know this; respond accordingly. Be versatile. Social activity indicated.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Cycle remains high. Some restrictions are lifted. Learn rule before attempting to break them. Means be mature in planning break-away actions. Message becomes crystal clear by tonight.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Find out best ways to initiate constructive changes. Study your paper for special features. Ideas are plentiful; key is to choose quality. Stick to principles. Obtain needed privacy.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): You receive invitation. Individuals favorable for acceptance. Pleasure shown through mingling with friends, associates. Family members present good news. Praise one who puts forth extra effort.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): You can successfully entertain boss or prestigious neighbor. Give attention also to religious-spiritual matters. Heed inner voice. Give your best—then you receive reward.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Good lunar aspect today coincides with decision affecting future travel or vacation plans. You may also be called upon to bear burden of another's problem. Highlight mature approach.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): One who comes to you with problem deserves attention. But help only those willing to aid themselves. Obtain hint from VIRGO message. Mate, partner, discusses expense money. Listen.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Opposition is but temporary. Know this. Don't lose composure. Poise today is your greatest ally. Applies especially in dealing with one close to you. Let others set pace.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): If you've been neglecting diet, proper exercise, today you can correct that situation. Do so through determined effort combined with common sense. Do so and be happy.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Enjoy companionship of children, loved ones. One who puts forth proposal may be talking to hear himself talk. Serious decisions are not likely today. Accent pleasure and love.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Give special attention to domestic affairs. Some areas need tightening, others can stand a bit of relaxing. Means review and listen—form opinions based on up-to-date facts.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): Visit those who bring you joy. Go out of your way to express appreciation for favors. Stress intellectual curiosity. Ask questions—obtain answers. Member of opposite sex plays role.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are original in presentation of ideas. You attract persons with creative talent. May be necessary to slow down, to take stock. But pace will quicken. Don't rush, force or push—issues are due to be resolved.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle continues high for TAURUS. Lunar position favors planting. Special word to AQUARIUS: check tendency to rebel at necessary regulations.

FORECAST FOR MONDAY,
April 29, 1968

ARIES (Mar. 21-April 19): Conditions, circumstances team up to chase old opinions. Your style, opinions are subject to change. There is a general trend toward restlessness. Read between the lines.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): Secure what you need—do this through greater effort at communication. Many want to understand. Give them a chance. A GEMINI individual could play significant role in adding to your possessions.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Cycle high. One born under TAURUS may need encouragement. Give it. The more you offer, the more you are likely to receive. Watch dress, appearance. Many look, judge and try to learn.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Wise to be retiring today. Do more listening than asserting. Activity shown in connection with organization, club, group. You get news which requires you to exercise discretion.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): How you react to reality concerning wishes is emphasized. Today you find out where friends stand and why. Be analytical. Face truth—and it will set you free. Overtime work indicated.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Duties can be transformed to pleasures. Key is finding out the why and the potential. Look beyond immediate indications. The future beckons; it can be bright if you heed the call.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Deal with situations, persons afar. Means what concerns you is not easily identified. You must be willing to reach, experiment, judge. Nothing is handed to you on silver platter.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Follow through on hunch. No matter how erratic a plan, if you believe in it go forth. Some watch, test, observe. Key is to live up to principles. Inspire associates, co-workers.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Accent on public relations, how others respond to your ideas. See clearly. Don't muddy the waters with far-out theories. Mate or partner can help if you throw aside false pride.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Study SAGITTARIUS message. Your way of completing basic tasks is spotlighted. You may have skipped essential details. If so, correct oversight. Today you can catch up. Do so.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Greater freedom of thought, action is indicated. Personal magnetism rating today is high. You can sell programs, ideas. People are drawn to you. Take advantage by honestly expressing yourself.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Give needed attention to details around home, office. Key is adjustment. What you see is close at hand. Know this. Avoid going too far afield. Close ranks with family members.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are a natural teacher. Your voice is regarded as unusual. You could excel in drama. Social activity accelerates—you have more opportunity now than in recent past.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle high for GEMINI. Special word to PISCES: harmonize relations at home.

Safety Plays Aid Duplicate

By Oswald and James Jacoby

A safety play is an insurance policy to protect a contract. It is most important in rubber bridge where over-tricks mean little but also has its place in match point duplicate.

In the recent Metropolitan championships, Carol Leib and Jane Kerr won the women's pairs. One of their good scores came when Carol wisely decided to take out an insurance policy on a four spade contract. East put the ace of diamonds on her partner's queen and Carol dropped the king. This type play is almost automatic with any good player irrespective of the possible need to establish an extra entry to dummy.

East returned the nine of diamonds and Carol let dummy's 10 win the trick. Then she went into a lot of study before leading the ace of clubs and discarding her jack of diamonds. This was her insurance policy. It made it impossible for her to make an over-trick, but nevertheless made it impossible for her to lose her contract.

Her next play was a low trump. East jumped up with the ace and led another diamond. Carol ruffed high, drew trumps stopping in dummy and discarded two of her three low hearts on the last two high clubs.

It should be noted that the safety play would have been equally effective had West held the ace of spades. East would have been able to trump a heart, but the heart East trumped would have been the small one that Carol lost anyway.

It should also be noted that if East had ducked the first diamond, Carol would have had to go down one trick and that a heart plus further correct defense would also have beaten her, but no one who wants to win waits for sure thing contracts.

Time for This Guy to Work

The evil-looking old man, an individual whose prurient behavior was known throughout the neighborhood, was warned by the police that if one more complaint was made, he would be arrested. The young wife was shocked by her husband's prurient behavior at a recent dinner party; he made certain nasty suggestions to the hostess. Before they left for their vacation in the large city, the two pretty farm girls were warned by their mother to avoid making the acquaintances of prurient men.

Cavett: A Daytime Success

By DEAN GYSEL
Chicago Daily News Service

If I'm not too late, I'd like to climb aboard Dick Cavett's bandwagon. In due time, some magazine will put him on the cover and that'll be the end of him.

In the meantime, he's the best antidote for game shows and comedy reruns of daytime television.

No 'New Concept'

His ABC show is hardly the "new concept" as billed by the network. It is cut from the same cloth as Merv Griffin, Mike Douglas and other Women's Home Companions, but, like Joseph's coat, it is brighter.

Cavett, 31, overcame a Yale education to become a writer for Jack Paar, among other monologists and now puts the quips in his own mouth.

Though not as caustic as Paar, Cavett is a nimble ad libber. After a forgettable comment to actor Terence Stamp, for example, Cavett cracked, "That's not very profound, but it kills a few seconds."

And when a snake trainer assured him he could handle a reptile, Cavett rejoined, "I'll be the judge of that." And he didn't.

No guffaws, just chuckles and a wake-up smile Cavett is so low-key and nonchalant he seems continually surprised to be on stage. It is like watching a man going through on-the-job training.

Besides his civilized manner, Cavett disguises an intelligent mind behind self-deprecation.

Uninformed Comedian

"I'm an uninformed comedian," he said, opening a discussion on Vietnam with Attorney Louis Nizer. But before Nizer rested his hawkish case, dovish Cavett invoked an article from the intellectual New Republic Magazine and cited Nizer for using "lawyer's tactics" with statistics.

At night, this kind of talk is just talk, but in the morning it breaks the cardinal rule of TV not to stimulate the housewife.

In the Nizer episode, Cavett boldly challenged his views and also his management: "If you're bored, tune to something else, but I don't get to see Mr. Nizer every day." The implication was clear that neither would the lady of the house.

In a later derring-do, on the same show, Cavett said, "I will be told afterward that people aren't interested in this (Vietnam), but I hope you are. It's the most crucial issue, and I think the housewife is worth talking to."

Elicits Sex Appeal

To illustrate his range of interests and resourcefulness, Cavett elicited sex appeal from 72-year-old Buckminster Fuller, more famous for creating the geodesic dome than talking about the Mating Game. Cavett led Fuller into provocative predictions about the woman's

Even television was fair game when Cavett invited candid opinions of the media by TV producer William Dozier (Batman, Playhouse 90) and Dick Benjamin and Paula Prentiss of the CBS comedy, He & She. Cavett has demonstrated he can control almost any eventuality, except untimely, omniscient commercials. Just as Nizer said, "I have something (information) here that may astonish you..." Cavett had to interject, "Would you astonish us in just a moment? We have a message."

If the number of guests and interruptions (not the number of messages) can be reduced, Cavett has enough on the ball to develop something really worth listening to over that second cup of coffee.

Cavett: A Daytime Success

By DEAN GYSEL
Chicago Daily News Service

If I'm not too late, I'd like to climb aboard Dick Cavett's bandwagon. In due time, some magazine will put him on the cover and that'll be the end of him.

In the meantime, he's the best antidote for game shows and comedy reruns of daytime television.

No "New Concept"

His ABC show is hardly the "new concept" as billed by the network. It is cut from the same cloth as Merv Griffin, Mike Douglas and other Women's Home Companions, but, like Joseph's coat, it is brighter.

Cavett, 31, overcame a Yale education to become a writer for Jack Paar, among other monologists and now puts the quips in his own mouth.

Though not as caustic as Paar, Cavett is a nimble ad libber. After a forgettable comment to actor Terence Stamp, for example, Cavett cracked, "That's not very profound, but it kills a few seconds."

And when a snake trainer assured him he could handle a reptile, Cavett rejoined, "I'll be the judge of that." And he didn't.

No guffaws, just chuckles and a wake-up smile Cavett is so low-key and nonchalant he seems continually surprised to be on stage. It is like watching a man going through on-the-job training.

Besides his civilized manner, Cavett disguises an intelligent, inquisitive mind behind self-deprecation.

Uninformed Comedian

"I'm an uninformed comedian," he said, opening a discussion on Vietnam with Attorney Louis Nizer. But before Nizer rested his hawkish case, Cavett invoked an article from the intellectual New Republic Magazine and cited Nizer for using "lawyer's tactics" with statistics.

At night, this kind of talk is just talk, but in the morning it breaks the cardinal rule of TV not to stimulate the housewife.

In the Nizer episode, Cavett boldly challenged his views and also his management: "If you're bored, tune to something else, but I don't get to see Mr. Nizer every day." The implication was clear: neither would the lady of the house.

In a later derring-do, on the same show, Cavett said, "I will be told afterward that people aren't interested in this (Vietnam), but I hope you are. It's the most crucial issue, and I think the housewife is worth talking to."

Elicits Sex Appeal

To illustrate his range of interests and resourcefulness, Cavett elicited sex appeal from 72-year-old Buckminster Fuller, more famous for creating the geodesic dome than talking about the Mating Game. Cavett led Fuller into provocative predictions about the woman's world of tomorrow, including the comeback of the figleaf.

Even television was fair game when Cavett invited candid opinions of the media by TV producer William Dozier (Batman, Playhouse 90) and Dick Benjamin and Paula Prentiss of the CBS comedy, He & She.

Cavett has demonstrated he can control almost any eventuality, except untimely, omnipresent commercials. Just as Nizer said, "I have something (information) here that may astonish you..." Cavett had to interject, "Would you astonish us in just a moment? We have a message."

If the number of guests and interruptions (not the number of messages) can be reduced, Cavett has enough on the ball to develop something really worth listening to over that second cup of coffee.

City Beat

By HUGH REYNOLDS
Freeman City Hall Reporter

By HUGH REYNOLDS
Freeman City Hall Reporter

We've been discussing this current controversy between the firemen and the city with both sides and have come to the conclusion that the city's chances if it goes to court, don't look too good.

It appears the firemen can go to court on two issues. First, the violation of the Taylor Law by Raymond Garrahan. There is little doubt that the mayor is wrong on this count. We're referring to his duty under the law to make recommendations on that fact finder's report in early April. It's a simple enough thing to do. Garrahan either agrees with it, disagrees with it or offers some kind of compromise. He has to put his recommendations in writing and forward them to the Council. That's easy. A court order should move him.

Actually, Garrahan is ignoring the firemen. Maybe he thinks they'll get tired and quit. Not those guys, Ray. They can be a tough bunch.

TOO TOUGH, we think the firemen say they won't negotiate. We think the city will and might go for a package of $800 for the chief, $600 for the deputies and the $400 the firemen have been wanting all along. However, it takes two. Now, that second possibility for court action. The firemen have argued that the commissioners set salaries and they're right. The councilmen argue that the commissioners only spend what the Council gives them and they're right.

The Council gave the commissioners $487,370.78 for this year's operation of the fire department. In that budget the commissioners figured for 67 men, with salaries of $1,100 for the chief, $1,000 for the deputies and $400 for the firemen. Garrahan rejected that, offering $350 for everyone.

TO MAKE up the difference the commissioners dropped the two men to be hired and used the $10,400 for salaries. The Council didn't buy this and placed the money in a contingency fund where it is now.

As we read the charter it seems that the city was wrong. We don't agree with that 1948 charter revision that gave the commissioners the right to distribute the money but it is there.

The system in its present form, and especially with the advent of the Taylor Law, obviously doesn't work. The Council certainly has no intentions of handing the commissioners a half a million bucks and saying, "Here boys. Divvy it up."

We feel the firemen should negotiate directly with the Finance Laws and Rules Committee of the Council. They're the guys that handle the money. They can be sure if they come to an agreement with Pete Mancuso (finance chairman) he'll stick to it.

PREDICTIONS for the future? The firemen will probably get a raise of some sort. Maybe the full shot they want. But watch out for next year. Garrahan's a man with a good memory and he doesn't like to eat crow.

U.S., Soviets Seek Nuclear Treaty Ban

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union have joined forces to try to win over opposition to their treaty aimed at banning the spread of nuclear weapons.

The two powers made their appeals as the General Assembly's main political committee opened debate Friday on the treaty worked out by the 17-nation disarmament committee in Geneva.

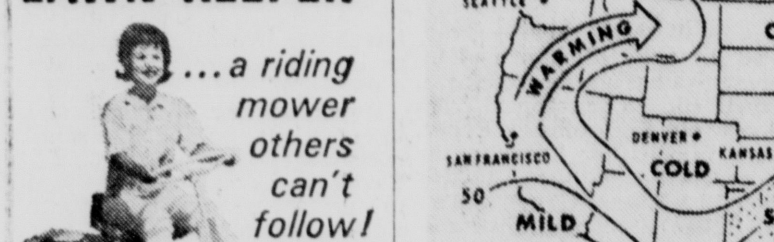

The treaty has brought objections from India, Brazil, Italy, Japan, West Germany and Romania. Communist China and France, both nuclear powers, have spurned the pact.

Debate was launched by U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg and Soviet First Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov.

Goldberg said: "This treaty will do more than any treaty of our time to push back the fearful shadow of nuclear destruction. The immediate necessity is that we should take the next step—the endorsement of the treaty by the General Assembly."

Kuznetsov told the committee the treaty was essential "to the whole of mankind." He said:

Bombers in New Effort To Smash Concentrations

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Air Force B52 bombers attacked Viet Cong sanctuaries on two sides of Saigon today in a new effort to smash enemy troop concentrations within striking distance of the capital.

Intelligence reports persisted that the Viet Cong are planning an attack on Saigon similar to the invasion of the city during the lunar new year offensive Jan. 31.

Despite the reports, only small-scale skirmishes were reported on the outskirts of the capital.

The biggest fight was just below the demilitarized zone near Con Thien where U.S. Marines supported by tanks and artillery killed 72 North Vietnamese troops in a three-hour battle.

Marine losses were listed as nine killed and 17 wounded in the fight that broke out Friday when a squad from the 4th Regiment ran into a North Vietnamese force of unknown size.

Two platoons of Leatherneck reinforcements and tanks were thrown into the battle.

Enemy gunners made artillery, rocket and mortar attacks Friday on Camp Carroll, a U.S. artillery base east of Khe Sanh, and on the Quang Tri airfield.

Casualties were reported light from the shelling of Camp Carroll and no material damage was reported. A fuel storage area was hit in the 40-minute attack on the airfield and light casualties were reported.

The American B52s made three more raids northeast of Saigon to follow up a series of four raids on targets from 24 to 35 miles northwest of Saigon. Tons of explosives were dropped on bunkers, base camps, troop concentrations and weapons positions.

Other B52s maintained the relentless attack on the A Shau Valley and the area east of the North Vietnamese valley stronghold with three more raids.

The air war over North Vietnam Friday cost the Air Force an F4 Phantom downed from unknown causes. The two crewmen were reported missing. It was the 828th announced American warplane lost in the more than three-year bombing campaign over North Vietnam.

Pilots said enemy ground fire was light to moderate and reported surface-to-air missiles around Vinh. Lingering monsoons limited American bombers to 96 missions over North Vietnam Friday in the curtailed air war.

America's newest fighter-bomber, the F111, returned to action Friday for the first time since Monday night's crash of a third F111.

The three sophisticated, $6 million fighter-bombers crashed in their first month of Vietnam combat.

Friday night the F111s attacked North Vietnamese supply lines near the city of Dong Hoi 35 miles north of the demilitarized zone.

U.S. warplanes stayed below the 19th Parallel again in the curtailed bombing campaign. The deepest penetration reported was an attack by Navy bombers on a railroad spur 16 miles north of the demilitarized zone and one mile below the parallel.

Marine A6 Intruders blasted a small North Vietnamese airstrip 16 miles north-northwest of the allied outpost of Gio Linh on the eastern edge of the DMZ. Spokesmen said the 2,500 foot-long strip is along the coast and could be used for light observation.

Student Protests Are International

Students at a score of universities joined an international protest Friday against racism and the war in Vietnam, setting the stage for other demonstrations, parades and rallies in about 20 American cities today.

In New York, the annual Loyalty Day parade heads up Fifth Avenue, while several peace groups converge on Central Park. The widow of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. will address a Stop the War Rally in the park's Sheep Meadow.

In San Francisco, Muhammad Ali—Cassius Clay, former world heavyweight boxing champion—tops the list of speakers at a rally in the Civic Center.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars sponsors the New York Loyalty Day celebrations, which include a parade in Brooklyn. The anti-war rally is sponsored by the Fifth Avenue Vietnam Peace Parade Committee.

The Friday classroom boycotts and other demonstrations on college campuses marked the first day of a two-day protest spearheaded by the Student Mobilization Committee To End the War in Vietnam.

The student committee, organized in Chicago in 1966 and headquartered in New York, is a coalition of student government groups, left-wing student groups and anti-war organizations. It is affiliated with the National Mobilization Coalition to End the War in Vietnam.

Students demonstrated and cut classes in Detroit; Columbus, Ohio; Atlanta; California; Louisiana; New Jersey; Connecticut and Massachusetts. In Prague, Czechoslovakia, more than 1,000 students took part in an anti-American demonstration in front of the U.S. Embassy. In Paris, Viet Cong flags flew from the Arch of Triumph and the Eiffel Tower.

At Louisiana State University's main campus, Baton Rouge, about 100 students held a quiet antiwar rally. The school has an enrollment of 18,000.

About 75 Ohio State University Negro students besieged the finance office on the second floor of the administration building and held what was termed a "black teach-in." The students refused to let anyone leave or enter the second floor of the building.

Another group of about 200 OSU students staged an anti-war rally.

The Negro students said they were protesting discrimination in off-campus housing in Columbus as well as a reported harassment of Negro students on a bus Thursday night.

Ohio State has an enrollment of about 35,000 students.

On the State University of New York campus at Albany, more than 200 persons attended the showing of a film about Vietnam, while about 100 others attended a teach-in on the problems of poverty. Enrollment is 9,150.

The San Francisco Board of Education reported that 25 students walked out of classes at Galilee High School. At Oakland across the bay about 100 youths demonstrated in front of the courthouse for a jailed Negro militant leader.

At the University of California campus in San Diego, students attended a noon rally sponsored by the Tuesday the Ninth Committee.

Also in San Diego, a student group called Inquiry sponsored a peace vigil during a free hour for all students of California Western University. Those taking part included Black Power advocates, folk singers and anti-draft supporters.

In New Jersey, what was termed a token number of students took part in antiwar activities at Princeton, Rutgers and Drew universities.

In Atlanta, about a dozen pickets at Georgia State College paraded with signs urging that the U.S. get out of Vietnam. Enrollment is 9,280.

Students picketed the New York City campuses of New York University, the Albert Einstein College of Medicine, and Pace, Hunter, Brooklyn and Queens colleges. Columbia University, which shut down until Monday as the result of other demonstrations, also was a site for antiwar marching.

Demonstrations also were held at several schools on Long Island.

A student demonstration at McKendree College, Lebanon, Ill., concerned not war but a battle for campus beauty.

A student sat in a hole, dug for a new flagpole in front of a dormitory-student center complex, as the student congress voted to provide funds for a fountain or some other decorative object instead of the flagpole.

Dean of Students Paul G. Manual said the flagpole probably will be located elsewhere, adding: "We welcome student interest. It isn't often that we have it."

Peace Formula At Columbia

NEW YORK (AP) — Columbia University faculty members have proposed a peace formula for ending a four-day student sit-in but a protest leader rejected the plan and restated the militants' key demand for a general amnesty.

The demonstrators—an estimated 200 to 400 of the Ivy League university's 27,500 students—continued to occupy five campus buildings today on the Morningside Heights campus which overlooks Harlem.

Supporters pushed shopping carts filled with ready-to-eat groceries to some of the occupied buildings Friday night as the demonstrators stockpiled supplies behind their barricades.

A faculty committee voted Friday afternoon to recommend to the administration that a 12-member panel be appointed to deal with problems of student discipline at Columbia.

The committee would have five faculty members, five students and two administrators and would set guide lines and appeals procedures in disciplinary action.

The administration had no immediate comment. On Thursday, University President Grayson Kirk appointed a panel of three professors to study a similar proposal by a smaller faculty council.

The faculty move to mediate between the administration and students on the key issue of amnesty was rejected by Mark Rudd, 20, chairman of the Students for a Democratic Society which is spearheading the campus protest.

In a news conference, Rudd asserted that the demonstrators' substantive demands that a controversial gymnasium not be built in a nearby Harlem park and that the university sever its ties with the Institute for Defense Analysis "are well on their way to resolution."

Rudd said, "the key issue is whether or not the university will grant the demonstrators a general amnesty" and asserted the faculty compromise proposal was motivated by an unfounded fear of violence.

Kirk has been adamant in refusing to consider amnesty although the administration agreed, at the request of Mayor John V. Lindsay, to halt construction on the gym until further notice.

The gym would be built on two acres of the park which separates the campus from the Negro community. Demonstrators assert the facility would deprive the neighborhood of needed play space.

They seek Columbia's withdrawal from the IDA, a 12-university consortium that does research for the government on the grounds that it supports the Vietnam war.

Earlier Friday police moved onto the campus in force and occupied every building that the students had not already taken in an effort to prevent any further seizures.

City Beat

By HUGH REYNOLDS
Freeman City Hall Reporter

By HUGH REYNOLDS
Freeman City Hall Reporter

We've been discussing this current controversy between the firemen and the city with both sides and have come to the conclusion that the city's chances if it goes to court, don't look too good.

It appears the firemen can go to court on two issues. First, the violation of the Taylor Law by Raymond Garrahan. There is little doubt that the mayor is wrong on this count. We're referring to his duty under the law to make recommendations on that fact finder's report in early April. It's a simple enough thing to do. Garrahan either agrees with it, disagrees with it or offers some kind of compromise. He has to put his recommendations in writing and forward them to the Council. That's easy. A court order should move him.

Actually, Garrahan is ignoring the firemen. Maybe he thinks they'll get tired and quit. Not those guys, Ray. They can be a tough bunch.

TOO TOUGH, we think the firemen say they won't negotiate. We think the city will and might go for a package of $800 for the chief, $600 for the deputies and the $400 the firemen have been wanting all along. However, it takes two.

Now, that second possibility for court action. The firemen have argued that the commissioners set salaries and they're right. The councilmen argue that the commissioners only spend what the Council gives them and they're right.

The Council gave the commissioners $487,370.78 for this year's operation of the fire department. In that budget the commissioners figured for 67 men, with salaries of $1,100 for the chief, $1,000 for the deputies and $400 for the firemen. Garrahan rejected that, offering $350 for everyone.

TO MAKE up the difference the commissioners dropped the two men to be hired and used the $10,400 for salaries. The Council didn't buy this and placed the money in a contingency fund where it is now.

As we read the charter it seems that the city was wrong. We don't agree with that 1948 charter revision that gave the commissioners the right to distribute the money but it is there.

The system in its present form, and especially with the advent of the Taylor Law, obviously doesn't work. The Council certainly has no intentions of handing the commissioners a half a million bucks and saying, "Here boys. Divvy it up."

We feel the firemen should negotiate directly with the Finance Laws and Rules Committee of the Council. They're the guys that handle the money. They can be sure if they come to an agreement with Pete Mancuso (finance chairman) he'll stick to it.

PREDICTIONS for the future? The firemen will probably get a raise of some sort. Maybe the full shot they want. But watch out for next year. Garrahan's a man with a good memory and he doesn't like to eat crow.

U.S., Soviets Seek Nuclear Treaty Ban

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — The Soviet delegation calls (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union have joined forces to try to win over opposition to their treaty aimed at banning the spread of nuclear weapons.

The two powers made their appeals as the General Assembly's main political committee opened debate Friday on the treaty worked out by the 17-nation disarmament committee in Geneva.

The treaty has brought objections from India, Brazil, Italy, Japan, West Germany and Romania. Communist China and France, both nuclear powers, have spurned the pact.

Debate was launched by U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg and Soviet First Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov.

Goldberg said: "This treaty will do more than any treaty of our time to push back the fearful shadow of nuclear destruction. The immediate necessity is that we should take the next step—the endorsement of the treaty by the General Assembly."

upon the delegations of all member states" to approve it.

Among countries that become parties to the treaty, those with nuclear weapons will be bound not to transfer them to others and those without them will be bound not to acquire or manufacture them.

Goldberg pledged that the United States would "equitably share our knowledge and experience, acquired at great cost, concerning all aspects of the peaceful uses of nuclear energy, with parties to the treaty." He especially mentioned explosions.

He said endorsement of the treaty "will improve the atmosphere for peaceful settlement of other conflicts." He declared that it was urgent because the opportunity might "never recur."

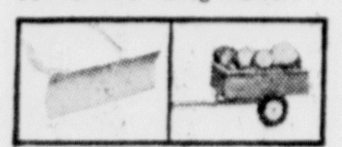

Kuznetsov said that when the Security Council acted to back up the treaty, the Soviet Union would state specifically that any country that committed or threatened aggression with nuclear weapons "must be aware that its actions are to be countered effectively by measures to be taken in accordance with the United Nations charter to suppress the aggression or remove the threat of aggression."

Bombers in New Effort To Smash Concentrations

By GEORGE ESPIER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Air Force B52 bombers attacked

Viet Cong sanctuaries on two sides of Saigon today in a new effort to smash enemy troop concentrations within striking distance of the capital.

Intelligence reports persisted that the Viet Cong are planning an attack on Saigon similar to the invasion of the city during the lunar new year offensive Jan. 31.

Despite the reports, only small-scale skirmishes were reported on the outskirts of the capital.

The biggest fight was just below the demilitarized zone near Con Thien where U.S. Marines supported by tanks and artillery killed 72 North Vietnamese troops in a three-hour battle.

Marine losses were listed as nine killed and 17 wounded in the fight that broke out Friday when a squad from the 4th Regiment ran into a North Vietnamese force of unknown size. Two platoons of Leatherneck reinforcements and tanks were thrown into the battle.

Enemy gunners made artillery, rocket and mortar attacks Friday on Camp Carroll, a U.S. artillery base east of Khe Sanh, and on the Quang Tri airfield.

Casualties were reported light from the shelling of Camp Carroll and no material damage was reported. A fuel storage area was hit in the 40-minute attack on the airfield and light casualties were reported.

The American B52s made three more raids northeast of Saigon to follow up a series of four raids on targets from 24 to 35 miles northwest of Saigon.

Tons of explosives were dropped on bunkers, base camps, troop concentrations and weapons positions.

Other B52s maintained the relentless attack on the A Shau Valley and the area east of the North Vietnamese valley stronghold with three more raids.

The air war over North Vietnam Friday cost the Air Force an F4 Phantom downed from unknown causes. The two crewmen were reported missing. It was the 828th announced American warplane lost in the more than three-year bombing campaign over North Vietnam.

Pilots said enemy ground fire was light to moderate and reported surface-to-air missiles around Vinh.

Lingering monsoons limited

U.S. warplanes stayed below the 18th Parallel again in the curtailed bombing campaign. The deepest penetration reported was an attack by Navy bombers on a railroad spur 169 miles north of the demilitarized zone and one mile below the parallel.

Marine A6 Intruders blasted a small North Vietnamese airstrip 16 miles north-northwest of the allied outpost of Gio Linh on the eastern edge of the DMZ. Spoken said the 2,500 foot-long strip is along the coast and could be used for light observation.

Friday night the F111s attacked North Vietnamese supply lines near the city of Dong Hoi 35 miles north of the demilitarized zone.

Student Protests Are International

Students at a score of universities joined an international protest Friday against racism and the war in Vietnam, setting the stage for other demonstrations, parades and rallies in about 20 American cities today.

In New York, the annual Loyalty Day parade heads up Fifth Avenue, while several peace groups converge on Central Park. The widow of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. will address a Stop the War Rally in the park's Sheep Meadow.

In San Francisco, Muhammad Ali—Cassius Clay, former world heavyweight boxing champion—tops the list of speakers at a rally in the Civic Center.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars sponsors the New York Loyalty Day celebrations, which include a parade in Brooklyn. The anti-war rally is sponsored by the Fifth Avenue Vietnam Peace Parade Committee.

The Friday classroom boycotts and other demonstrations on college campuses marked the first day of a two-day protest spearheaded by the Student Mobilization Committee To End the War in Vietnam.

The student committee, organized in Chicago in 1966 and headquartered in New York, is a coalition of student government groups, left-wing student groups and antiwar organizations. It is affiliated with the National Mobilization Coalition to End the War in Vietnam.

Students demonstrated and cut classes in Detroit; Columbus, Ohio; Atlanta; California; Louisiana; New Jersey; Connecticut and Massachusetts.

In Prague, Czechoslovakia, more than 1,000 students took part in an anti-American demonstration in front of the U.S. Embassy. In Paris, Viet Cong flags flew from the Arch of Triumph and the Eiffel Tower.

At Louisiana State University's main campus, Baton Rouge, about 100 students held a quiet antiwar rally. The school has an enrollment of 18,000.

About 75 Ohio State University Negro students besieged the finance office on the second floor of the administration building and held what was termed a "black teach-in." The students refused to let anyone leave or enter the second floor of the building.

Another group of about 200 OSU students staged an anti-war rally.

The Negro students said they were protesting discrimination in off-campus housing in Columbus as well as a reported harassment of Negro students on a bus Thursday night.

Clean Shave for 'Wagon'

Musical Is Proof That Beards Vary

There are anecdotes that accompany all theatre productions and "Paint Your Wagon" is no exception to the rule. When it first opened in New York, for purposes of authenticity, all 24 members of the male chorus, who rip through a series of roaring songs, were required to grow their own beards rather than use artificial ones. This was to guarantee they'd look like real Gold Rush miners, and for six weeks of rehearsal, seven weeks of pre-Broadway try-outs, a run of nine months in New York, and four months on road-tour, this chorus of two dozen men never shaved once! Even the press-agent of the show grew a thick bush on his face to glean special publicity.

This then is the show Coach House Players will present here on the evenings of May 10 and 11 with repeat performances the following week on May 16, 17 and 18 at the George Washington School.

One of the members of the local cast told Tempo this week that he had shaved his beard off because it didn't look authentic. It seems there are beards and other beards; and those affected by The Now Generation are quite different from those of the gold rush days!

But this show has more than beards, authentic or not. It brings alive a vivid episode in American history with a wagon load of tuneful songs, picturesque characters and an absorbing story.

Directing "Wagon" for Coach House is the ever skillful Bill Skilling, who has done many similar stunts for the Players. Skilling, along with cast and crew, is convinced that those who come to see and hear "Wagon" for themselves will go away singing.

As previously announced, in order to assure all patrons a seat at the show, tickets must be exchanged for reserved seats. Exchanges may be made at the Governor Clinton Hotel during the following hours:

Wednesday, May 1, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. and, again, from 7 to 9 p.m.

Thursday, May 2, same hours as for Wednesday.

Tuesday, May 7, 7 to 9 p.m. only.

Turnau's New Home

The Turnau Opera Players, whose musical theatre performances have been praised throughout the United States, will make their summer home at State University College, New Paltz, where they will present a series of six operas from July 19 to August 24. Dr. Thomas Barr, chairman of the College's Music division, announced this week.

The New York Times' Raymond Ericson cited Turnau Opera for its "imaginative staging" and "excellent young professional singers and stage and musical directors." Ericson said, "The company has established a reputation for giving a fresh intimacy to standard repertory items as well as handsome treatment to operatic rarities."

The Players, who leave Woodstock after more than 10 years, have also been mentioned in Holiday magazine, the Mobil Travel Guide, and the AAA Guide, and are on the roster of the New York State Council on the Arts. They have received high praise from Leonard Probst of NBC television and major newspapers throughout the country.

In addition to the excellence of their artistry in music, they are recognized for the theatrical presentation, effective costuming, and high entertainment value of their performances.

The summer schedule at New Paltz will include presentations of La Bohème, Fledermaus, The Abduction from the Seraglio, Don Pasquale, a double bill of L'Enfant Prodigue and The Scarf, and a gala performance of scenes from operas. All performances will be in English except for L'Enfant Prodigue and some of the "gala performance" scenes.

Dates of specific performances at New Paltz have not yet been arranged.

Music

Area Glee Clubs Combine Tonight

Vassar College Glee Club, Union College Glee Club and Vassar College Orchestra will give a concert in Skinner Recital Hall on the campus tonight at 8:30 o'clock. The concert is open to the public.

The program will include the concert version of "Idomeneo" by Mozart, "Elegies for Glee" for chorus and string orchestra, by Beethoven, and "Choral-Fantasie" for piano, chorus and orchestra, by Beethoven.

Soloists for the Mozart number will be Vassar students Adele Ziminski and Virginia Crawford, sopranos, and Sandra Browne, alto. Accompanists will be Jane Strong and Sue Miller. Huguette van Ackere will be the pianist for the "Choral-Fantasie" under the direction of Albert van Ackere, associate professor of music. Robert Rudie, lecturer in music, conducts the orchestra and Hugh Wilson directs the Union College Glee Club.

Vassar Recital

Vassar College students, assisted by cellist Luis Garcia-Renart, assistant professor of music, will present a chamber music concert in Skinner Recital Hall this Sunday at 3:30 p.m. Area residents are cordially invited.

The program will include Bach's Suite no. 2 in B minor, Haydn's Trio no. 30 in D major, Allegretto by Bohuslav Martinu, and Schumann's Quintet, op. 44 in E flat major.

Students participating include Artemis Gargal and Paula Silberstein flute; Barbara Riccardi and Adene Green, violin; Valborg Leidal, viola; Claudia Stevens and Margaret McCray, piano.

'Cradle Song'

Bard College Theatre of Drama and Dance will present "Cradle Song," by Gregorio Martinez Sierra, as the third major production of the spring term. The play opens Saturday evening, May 4, and runs through Tuesday night, May 7.

Directing "Cradle Song" is Charles Kakatsakis of the Bard faculty, and appearing in the cast are Ellen Barber, Collette Barry and Catherine Thiele.

The Spanish play, a perennial favorite with American audiences, has been performed by Eva Le Gallienne, and more recently was reviewed by both Helen Hayes and Judith Anderson. The entire action takes place in a convent of enclosed Dominican nuns, who rear an orphan child left with them as an infant.

Admission to the Bard Theatre is free, and all seats are reserved. For information about tickets call PL 8-8622, Monday through Friday from 3 to 5 p.m. Curtain time is 8:30, and reserved seats are held until 8:25.

A Sunday Concert

Organist John L. Baldwin, former head of the music department at Hamilton College, will present a pipe organ concert on Sunday, April 28, at the Webb Horton Church in Middletown. Admission is free to the 8:15 p.m. program which is sponsored by the Lyceum Series of Organ County Community College.

Baldwin taught at Hamilton for nearly 20 years until 1964 when he became professor of music at Fairleigh-Dickinson University's Madison, N.J. campus. He spends each summer as organist at the American Cathedral in Paris and is also director of the University Chorus in New York City.

Clean Shave for 'Wagon'

Musical Is Proof That Beards Vary

There are anecdotes that accompany all theatre productions and "Paint Your Wagon" is no exception to the rule. When it first opened in New York, for purposes of authenticity, all 24 members of the male chorus, who rip through a series of roaring songs, were required to grow their own beards rather than use artificial ones. This was to guarantee they'd look like real Gold Rush miners, and for six weeks of rehearsal, seven weeks of pre-Broadway try-outs, a run of nine months in New York, and four months on road-tour, this chorus of two dozen men never shaved once! Even the press-agent of the show grew a thick bush on his face to glean special publicity.

This then is the show Coach House Players will present here on the evenings of May 10 and 11 with repeat performances the following week on May 16, 17 and 18 at the George Washington School.

One of the members of the local cast told Tempo this week that he had shaved his beard off because it didn't look authentic. It seems there are beards and other beards; and those affected by The Now Generation are quite different from those of the gold rush days!

But this show has more than beards, authentic or not. It brings alive a vivid episode in American history with a wagon load of tuneful songs, picturesque characters and an absorbing story.

Directing "Wagon" for Coach House is the ever skillful Bill Skilling, who has done many similar stunts for the Players. Skilling, along with cast and crew, is convinced that those who come to see and hear "Wagon" for themselves will go away singing.

As previously announced, in order to assure all patrons a seat at the show, tickets must be exchanged for reserved seats. Exchanges may be made at the Governor Clinton Hotel during the following hours:

Wednesday, May 1, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. and, again, from 7 to 9 p.m.

Thursday, May 2, same hours as for Wednesday.

Tuesday, May 7, 7 to 9 p.m. only.

Turnau's New Home

The Turnau Opera Players, whose musical theatre performances have been praised throughout the United States, will make their summer home at State University College, New Paltz, where they will present a series of six operas from July 19 to August 24. Dr. Thomas Barr, chairman of the College's Music division, announced this week.

The New York Times' Raymond Ericson cited Turnau Opera for its "imaginative staging" and "excellent young professional singers and stage and musical directors." Ericson said, "The company has established a reputation for giving a fresh intimacy to standard repertory items as well as handsome treatment to operatic rarities."

The Players, who leave Woodstock after more than 10 years, have also been mentioned in Holiday magazine, the Mobil Travel Guide, and the AAA Guide, and are on the roster of the New York State Council on the Arts. They have received high praise from Leonard Probst of NBC television and major newspapers throughout the country.

In addition to the excellence of their artistry in music, they are recognized for the theatrical presentation, effective costuming, and high entertainment value of their performances.

The summer schedule at New Paltz will include presentations of La Boheme, Fledermaus, The Abduction from the Seraglio, Don Pasquale, a double bill of L'Enfant Prodigue and The Scarf, and a gala performance of scenes from operas. All performances will be in English except for L'Enfant Prodigue and some of the "gala performance" scenes.

Dates of specific performances at New Paltz have not yet been arranged.

Area Glee Clubs Combine Tonight

Vassar College Glee Club, Union College Glee Club and Vassar College Orchestra will give a concert in Skinner Recital Hall on the campus tonight at 8:30 o'clock. The concert is open to the public.

The program will include the concert version of "Idomeneo" by Mozart, "Elegischer Gesang" for chorus and string orchestra, by Beethoven, and "Choral-Fantasie" for piano, chorus and orchestra, by Beethoven.

Soloists for the Mozart number will be Vassar students Adele Ziminski and Virginia Crawford, sopranos, and Sandra Browne, alto. Accompanists will be Jane Strong and Sue Miller. # Seminary Show Business, or Boy Meets Boy

21-KINGSTON DAILY FREEMAN, APR. 27, 1968

THE MENFOLK OF RIVER CITY (L-R) James Whelan as Jacey Squires, Raymond Troik as Gustus Locke, George Rich as Ewart Dunlap, Edward Nichols as The Rev. Jeremiah Feamish, Thomas Barrett as Harold Hill, and Terrence Pierson, Ralph Bennett, Joseph McMahon and Frank Browne as the School Board, break into the "Glory, Glory Alleluia" anthem. Flag waving scene followed "music man" Hill's exhortations which convinced the men to enter the flight against the "terrible forces of depravity."

By TOBIE GEERTSEMA

With a passing salute to that vintage Americana musical, "The Music Man," originally penned by Meredith Willson... and with a deep bow to Shakespeare in whose comedies, so often, girls appear disguised as boys, something strangely wonderful happened over at Mount Saint Alphonsus Seminary in Esopus recently. The area seminary (or theologate since those in residence spend most of their time concerned with theology) turned its sights on the world of show business.

Theater in a seminary, a place which must be considered to be at the opposite end of the world from grease paint and umber lights? Indeed, yes, theater... and musical theater, at that—rash, brash, colorful and bouncy.

The story of how "The Music Man" came to be performed by the students of Mount Saint Alphonsus began back last September when the Redemptorist Fathers realized that one of their own (Brother Rudolph) would shortly celebrate his 50th anniversary in the religious profession. Something different, it was felt, should be done to honor him.

East Meets West

At the same time, the Redemptorist (from the title "Congregation of the Most Holy Redeemer," founded in 1732 by St. Alphonsus de Liguori) seminarians from the East and West coasts, joined together for the first time under one roof for studies. They came to the Mount in Esopus and this meeting of East and West seemed to call for something tangible to act as a catalyst for pulling diverse personalities together. What was needed, it seemed, was a joint effort all could take pride in—an effort to keep the winter months from dragging.

So it was that the idea of presenting a musical comedy within the seminary walls was born and, overnight, more than 100 students (more than 25 of them ordained priests), some 20 professors (also priests), and 10 Brothers (who preside over the kitchen and maintenance work) went into rehearsal to prove that sometimes the East-West twain does meet, and to offer a gift from the student body to Brother Rudolph, who for 50 years had gifted more than one generation of students with his talents, wit and intelligence.

By October, the decision had been made that only one musical would do—and that was "The Music Man." The cast and crew wanted a vehicle that would take them and the audience back to the very roots of this country, to the world of youth where the grass was always green, the robin annually announced the coming of spring, and all was as safe and sound as a gold-backed dollar. In today's unromantic age, the seminarians wanted to acknowledge that the "American Dream" still exists—at least in memory—and they elected to return to River City, Iowa, just after the turn of the present century, as one way of proving this truth.

Getting to Know You

"The Music Man" also seemed to offer something else, just as important. In discussing their project, the seminarians had discovered that, for years, they had been what they preferred to call "lonely neighbors," in-dwellers rather than out-goers, and they now wanted to throw open their doors to the outside world. In addition to doing honor to Brother Rudolph and getting to know each other, they hoped to become acquainted more intimately with those they met in their Catechism work and through preaching in local parishes. To these people and their relatives, they wanted to offer comfort and laughter, and "The Music Man" seemed the straightest course to this objective.

If the choice of fare was solidly backed, there were problems aplenty from the start. The play had to be rewritten to suit the particular production at the Mount. This task fell to the Rev. James Pauli and the youthful adaptor-director did his job well. Reworking the Meredith Willson script over a two weeks period, he elected to focus on Harold Hill, the traveling salesman of musical instruments, and to give second and third place billing to the Barbershop Quartet of the Willson original and to Mayor Shinn. He shaped the townfolk up as a more solid group, inked in a subplot of lovestruck teenagers, and created a very stiff-upper-lip Reverend by the name of Jeremiah Feamish. Since another problem was getting male seminarians to work up enough nerve to essay female roles, the part of Marian the librarian was deleted and the Rev. Pauli added a sure-fire character in the form of very pregnant matron, who ultimately justified "her" presence by bringing down the house with every entrance.

Says the Rev. Pauli of his "shoestring show" (the total production went on the boards at a cost of well under $400): "Our main problem from the start was costumes. I had written in several changes of attire for the ladies, such as dressess, rompers and ballet costumes... and with a cast of 28, we either had to rent costumes for an arm and a leg, or make them ourselves."

The Costume Problem

They made them themselves... or at least they prevailed upon Tony Hernandez, who makes vestments and comes from Puerto Rico, to do so. Miraculously and overnight, he sketched the 50 costumes needed and came up with an estimate of the cost for all necessary materials. For $250 and a buying spree at Kingston's Fabric Mart (then offering a January half-price sale), the material for each and every costume was purchased. And audiences were enchanted with Hernandez's bright, aggressive costumes which spoke colorfully for themselves when elaborate stage sets and scenery were vetoed. Outside of the effervescent actors themselves, the costumes were the play's greatest asset.

If costumes had been a problem eventually solved by utilizing the nimble-fingered talents of a one-man tailoring company,

Television

The big news on TV this week is the fact that a butler will serve up an evening of home theater and, in the doing, answer the question of whether an aristocratic English beauty can find happiness with that butler on a deserted island. Viewers will get the answer Thursday, May 2, over NBC, at 8:30 p. m. when the newest Hallmark Hall of Fame presentation, "The Admirable Crichton," is aired. The famed J. M. Barrie drawing room comedy-fantasy will star Bill Travers and Virginia McKenna as the very proper butler and the lady for whom he butlers.

Anything to do with butlers might seem to be out of place in today's servantless society, but Barrie's ironic treatment of the survival-of-the-fittest motif is funnier, although less shocking, today than in 1902, when it was first produced, thinks Hallmark. It should amuse anyone who tunes in since it has worn well over six decades, and the TV cast is a talented one.

Another program this week that comes highly recommended is SONS AND DAUGHTERS, which begins as a series of five televised programs on Monday, April 29 at 8:30 p. m. on Channel 17. Believing that sex is a subject that has befuddled parents and confused adolescents for too long, NET programmers hope "Sons and Daughters" will be a step in the right direction of throwing some light on the topic. The series will tell the story of human reproduction, explore teenagers' views on sexual behavior, examine the unwed mother problem, and dramatize the differing viewpoints of the old and young generation. Heralded as an honest approach to the whole subject of sex, this should be "must" watching for parents.

Very Popular

Something should be said, we suppose, about "The Dick Cavett Show," ABC's conversation-music-variety five-a-week day-

timer, which is growing in popularity. It's an hour and a half of p.m.-type entertainment aired each morning, and gives the day people an eyeful of what night owls enjoy. Comedian Dick Cavett is the host and, although he comes on at 10:30 a. m., it has been said that he comes on like a Joey Bishop or Johnny Carson. Once a writer for Jack Paar, Cavett's been called "the wittiest conversationalist on the air."

If he's witty, he's also flexible enough to discuss almost any subject on the program and, recently, he spent an hour with Attorney Louis Nizer in an examination of the Vietnam war; talked with Melina Mercouri of her struggle with the New Greek government; took on Alan Burke and successfully held him at bay; and discussed with Christine Jorgensen that famous Danish operation.

IN CASE YOU HAVEN'T HEARD: Bill Cosby's new album, "To Russell, My Brother, Whom I Slept With," is the funniest he's ever done, and that's very funny. . . . We liked Vice-President Humphrey's remark on a recent Mike Douglas Show. Asked if he thought there would be a Republican in the White House in January, he said: "It's quite likely. Lots of them will be coming to call on the President."

In Review

As we see it, the week just past on TV offered only a sprinkling of good programming. The annual return of The Wizard of Oz was still a real treat for the whole family. The Tony Awards presentation was smooth-paced and most entertaining. The Weapons of Gordon Parks, all about a celebrated Negro photographer, artist, author, musician, philosopher and crusader, was a rare gem as film essays go. And the Bell Telephone Hour closed out its highly commendable season with another first-rate production titled "Jazz: The Intimate Art," a thought-provoking, informative and entertaining hour with Dizzy Gillespie, Louis Armstrong, Dave Brubeck and Charles Lloyd.

TEMPO TELEVISION LISTINGS FOR THE WEEK ahead includes the following as your best bets:

Tonight, Saturday, April 27

BOXING (ABC, 9:30 p. m.). Jerry Quarry and Jimmy Ellis square off for the World Boxing Association's heavyweight championship at Oakland, Cal.

Sunday, April 28

EXPERIMENT IN TV (NBC, 4:30 p. m.). Artist and jazz saxophonist Larry Rivers and Oscar-winning film maker Pierre Gaisseau created "Africa and I"—a record of their journey through the Dark Continent last fall and winter. Unusual details usually missed by tourists and travelogues are featured.

MOVIE (ABC, 9 p. m.). George Segal stars as "King Rat" in this moving drama of survival in a World War II Japanese prison camp.

A Happening

Here's an event that sounds like a combination of real old-fashioned fun and modern day eventfulness. It's "A Community Happening" and it'll take over the Ellenville Reformed Church on Tuesday, April 30, from 7 to 1030 p.m.

Anyone and everyone is invited to exhibit and/or demonstrate a hobby, craft, art, poetry, music, recording, collection or what-have-you. Photographers are urged to come and have a field day at this event, and those participating may sell their wares, if they so desire, with a tithe going to the church.

It'll be a happening in which those exhibiting, demonstrating and attending will share hobbies, prize plants and art and culture. Awards will go to "best in show" categories and those interested in arranging space for exhibits should do so immediately with Mrs. James Cooke, of Ellenville.

Wind Still Draws

In its 28th week at New York's Rivoli Theatre, MGM's reserved-seat presentation of Gone With The Wind registered $44,811, representing one of the film's highest grossing weeks since its opening at the Broadway house.

The screen classic premiered in New York October 10, following the world premiere in Atlanta. Across the nation "Wind" continues to draw near-capacity audiences in its reserved-seat engagements. Winner of 10 Academy Awards, it stars Clark Gable, Vivien Leigh, Leslie Howard and Olivia de Havilland.

LESLIE UGGAMS SPECIAL

(ABC, 8:30 p.m.). That lively "Hallelujah, Baby!" star in an hour of music with actor-singers Robert Morse and Noel Harrison, and the rocking Young Rascals.

NET FESTIVAL (Channel 17, 9 p.m.). The romantic legend surrounding Chopin's life and music is examined in film clips and still photographs and with the help of Tamas Vasary, young Hungarian pianist acclaimed for his playing of Chopin's works.

MOVIE (ABC, 9:30 p.m.). "Paths of Glory," one of the most powerful and moving indictments of war, based on a World War I incident involving a fatigued French regiment, and starring Kirk Douglas.

Thursday, May 2

HALL OF FAME (NBC, 8:30 p.m.). "The Admirable Crichton," an adaptation of J. M. Barrie's turn-of-the-century satire about castaways on a tropical island.

Friday, May 3

WE WON'T GO (NBC, 10 p.m.). This news special explores the world of the draft evader—he who refuses to go when Uncle Sam calls. Cameras tour a commune in California where draft resisters are holding out; a prison where resisters are behind bars; a pro-resistance sermon by a Chicago clergyman; and resister refugees in Canada and Sweden.

Another program this week that comes highly recommended is SONS AND DAUGHTERS, which begins as a series of five televised programs on Monday, April 29 at 8:30 p. m. on Channel 17. Believing that sex is a subject that has befuddled parents and confused adolescents for too long, NET programmers hope "Sons and Daughters" will be a step in the right direction of throwing some light on the topic. The series will tell the story of human reproduction, explore teenagers' views on sexual behavior, examine the unwed mother problem, and dramatize the differing viewpoints of the old and young generation. Heralded as an honest approach to the whole subject of sex, this should be "must" watching for parents.

Very Popular

Something should be said, we suppose, about "The Dick Cavett Show," ABC's conversation-music-variety five-a-week day-

timer, which is growing in popularity. It's an hour and a half of p.m.-type entertainment aired each morning, and gives the day people an eyeful of what night owls enjoy. Comedian Dick Cavett is the host and, although he comes on at 10:30 a. m., it has been said that he comes on like a Joey Bishop or Johnny Carson. Once a writer for Jack Paar, Cavett's been called "the wittiest conversationalist on the air."

If he's witty, he's also flexible enough to discuss almost any subject on the program and, recently, he spent an hour with Attorney Louis Nizer in an examination of the Vietnam war; talked with Melina Mercouri of her struggle with the New Greek government; took on Alan Burke and successfully held him at bay; and discussed with Christine Jorgensen that famous Danish operation.

IN CASE YOU HAVEN'T HEARD: Bill Cosby's new album, "To Russell, My Brother, Whom I Slept With," is the funniest he's ever done, and that's very funny. . . . We liked Vice-President Humphrey's remark on a recent Mike Douglas Show. Asked if he thought there would be a Republican in the White House in January, he said: "It's quite likely. Lots of them will be coming to call on the President."

In Review

As we see it, the week just past on TV offered only a sprinkling of good programming. The annual return of The Wizard of Oz was still a real treat for the whole family. The Tony Awards presentation was smooth-paced and most entertaining. The Weapons of Gordon Parks, all about a celebrated Negro photographer, artist, author, musician, philosopher and crusader, was a rare gem as film essays go. And the Bell Telephone Hour closed out its highly commendable season with another first-rate production titled "Jazz: The Intimate Art," a thought-provoking, informative and entertaining hour with Dizzy Gillespie, Louis Armstrong, Dave Brubeck and Charles Lloyd.

Tonight, Saturday, April 27

BOXING (ABC, 9:30 p. m.). Jerry Quarry and Jimmy Ellis square off for the World Boxing Association's heavyweight championship at Oakland, Cal.

Sunday, April 28

EXPERIMENT IN TV (NBC, 4:30 p. m.). Artist and jazz saxophonist Larry Rivers and Oscar-winning film maker Pierre Gaisseau created "Africa and I"—a record of their journey through the Dark Continent last fall and winter. Unusual details usually missed by tourists and travelogues are featured.

MOVIE (ABC, 9 p. m.). George Segal stars as "King Rat" in this moving drama of survival in a World War II Japanese prison camp.

Monday, April 29

NET JOURNAL (Channels 13 & 17, 9 p. m.). The Negro mid-

A Happening

Here's an event that sounds like a combination of real old-fashioned fun and modern day eventfulness. It's "A Community Happening" and it'll take over the Ellenville Reformed Church on Tuesday, April 30, from 7 to 1030 p.m.

Anyone and everyone is invited to exhibit and/or demonstrate a hobby, craft, art, poetry, music, recording, collection or what-have-you. Photographers are urged to come and have a field day at this event, and those participating may sell their wares, if they so desire, with a tithe going to the church.

It'll be a happening in which those exhibiting, demonstrating and attending will share hobbies, prize plants and art and culture. Awards will go to "best in show" categories and those interested in arranging space for exhibits should do so immediately with Mrs. James Cooke, of Ellenville.

Wind Still Draws

In its 28th week at New York's Rivoli Theatre, MGM's reserved-seat presentation of Gone With The Wind registered $44,811, representing one of the film's highest grossing weeks since its opening at the Broadway house.

The screen classic premiered in New York October 10, following the world premiere in Atlanta. Across the nation "Wind" continues to draw near-capacity audiences in its reserved-seat engagements. Winner of 10 Academy Awards, it stars Clark Gable, Vivien Leigh, Leslie Howard and Olivia de Havilland.

neys—F. Lee Bailey, Edward Bennett Williams, Melvin Belli and Percy Foreman—discuss the strengths and weaknesses of the trial-by-jury system.

Wednesday, May 1

LESLIE UGGAMS SPECIAL

(ABC, 8:30 p.m.). That lively "Hallelujah, Baby!" star in an hour of music with actor-singers Robert Morse and Noel Harrison, and the rocking Young Rascals.

NET FESTIVAL (Channel 17, 9 p.m.). The romantic legend surrounding Chopin's life and music is examined in film clips and still photographs and with the help of Tamas Vasary, young Hungarian pianist acclaimed for his playing of Chopin's works.

MOVIE (ABC, 9:30 p.m.). "Paths of Glory," one of the most powerful and moving indictments of war, based on a World War I incident involving a fatigued French regiment, and starring Kirk Douglas.

Thursday, May 2

HALL OF FAME (NBC, 8:30 p.m.). "The Admirable Crichton," an adaptation of J. M. Barrie's turn-of-the-century satire about castaways on a tropical island.

Friday, May 3

WE WON'T GO (NBC, 10 p.m.). This news special explores the world of the draft evader—he who refuses to go when Uncle Sam calls. Cameras tour a commune in California where draft resisters are holding out; a prison where resisters are behind bars; a pro-resistance sermon by a Chicago clergyman; and resister refugees in Canada and Sweden.

WOODY ALLEN VISITS DICK CAVETT on "The Dick Cavett" Show, ABC's five-a-week daytimer that makes like a lite-night talk-variety show. It airs 10:30 a. m. to 12 noon and has had the critics and public ooh-ing and aah-ing ever since its recent debut.

OBED DIRA AND PHYLLIS MQOMO are cast as Mr. and Mrs. Makatini in "Sponono," the unusual drama from South Africa to be seen on NET PLAYHOUSE over Channel 17 on Friday, May 3 at 8:30 p. m. It's a poignant musical about the young black inmate of an African reformatory and his relationship with the white principal.

Breaks All Records

In its premiere engagement Sam Sebastian has broken all existing records in the 30-year history of the Ritz Theatre, Leicester Square, during its opening week.

With a first week gross of $10,192, the spectacular romantic adventure starring two-time Academy Award winner Anthony Quinn topped all previous box office records at the 412-seat Ritz Theatre.

Breaks All Records

In its premiere engagement Sam Sebastian has broken all existing records in the 30-year history of the Ritz Theatre, Leicester Square, during its opening week.

With a first week gross of $10,192, the spectacular romantic adventure starring two-time Academy Award winner Anthony Quinn topped all previous box office records at the 412-seat Ritz Theatre.

Neon Sculptor at UCCC Demonstration

Victor Millonzi, Woodstock, a nationally famous neon-sculptor, will give a lecture-demonstration entitled "Light Sculpture in Modern Technology" at Ulster County Community College on Thursday, May 9.

The lecture demonstration, presented by the College's Visual Art Program, will take place at 1:40 p. m. in Room 415 of the John Burroughs Science Building on the Stone Ridge Campus. It is free and open to the public.

Millonzi uses neon piping, blown to his own designs, as material for vari-colored sculptures. In some cases these neon light sculptures are timed to go on and off, while in other instances they give off non-changing, discreetly trembling light.

Exciting Concept

"Neon sculpture generates its own excitement," Millonzi says. "It can establish the distinction between movement and stasis. Its very core is the concept of light. The sculpture of light has become an oeuvre that goes beyond theory in its beauty and impact."

Millonzi says he feels obligated to explore his awareness of the creative possibilities in neon because it is appropriate to his spatial statement. "Light as sculptural mass can create forms that contain space and light instead of displacing it," he added.

The artist's most recent neon sculpture, "Mellow Yellow," will be added to the permanent collection of the newly opened Museum of Fine Arts in Washington, D.C.

Its unique feature is that it is composed of stationary and moving pieces of neon, which revolve on a timetable in the center.

Other Works

Millonzi's other works are in the permanent collections of

Finch College Museum, Corcoran Gallery of Art, Washington, D.C.; Albright-Knox Art Gallery, Buffalo; National Collection, Washington, D.C., and the State Museum of New Jersey in Trenton.

A native of Buffalo, Millonzi maintains studios in New York and Woodstock. He formerly taught in Buffalo public schools and during World War II was an engineering draftsman for Curtiss-Wright and Bell Aircraft.

He left Buffalo after the war to become supervisor of art in the Pearl River Public Schools, and later joined the Mt. Vernon public school system as a teacher. After this he purchased a sign business and started re-experimenting with neon as an art form.

Millonzi has a B.A. degree from the University of Buffalo, a B.F.A. degree from Albright Art School in Buffalo, and a M.A. degree from Columbia University.

Now Playing in Repertory

IN NORTH LONDON, four members of the cast of Harold Pinter's "The Homecoming" sit down for morning coffee. From L to R they're William Metzo as Lenny, Tanny McDonald as Ruth, William Ade as Joey, and John Swearingen as Teddy. The bizarre black comedy opened at the Hudson Valley Repertory Theatre last week to high critical praise. Those who missed its first three performances will enjoy an evening of side splitting laughter if they take time out to attend one of the remaining three playing dates, "The Homecoming" will be staged again April 28, May 5 and May 11.

EDWARD HOLMES (L) as fading matinee idol James Tyrone indulges in a drunken card game with his son Edmund, portrayed by William Ade. During the game father and son discuss mom's morphine addiction, brother Jamie's lack of stability, Edmund's impending stay in a sanitarium to cure his consumption, and pop's tight-fistedness with a dollar. Scene is from Eugene O'Neill's "Long Day's Journey Into Night," which opened to excellent reviews two weeks ago at the Hudson Valley Repertory Theatre in Woodstock. The play may still be seen tonight and again on May 10.

13th Century Books at OCCC

Pages from medieval "Books of Hours," exquisitely-illuminated prayer books used being the 13th and 14th Centuries, are being displayed in the Harriman Gallery at Orange County Community College through April 30.

Made entirely by hand, the "Book of Hours" was usually lettered in Latin on parchment or vellum. An elaborate cover of leather or velvet with a clasp of precious jewels often bound the copies commissioned by royalty.

This type of book first appeared in the latter half of the 13th Century and increased in popularity until it became, during the 14th Century, the most common form of private prayer book. The name came from the division of the book into the day when prayers were recited by the individual worshipper.

Contents of a "Book of Hours" included a calendar as a guide to feast and saint's days, readings from the Gospels, the Office of the Virgin, the Office of the Dead, penitential Psalms, and the Litany of the Saints.

The Harriman Gallery, located on the ground floor of Harriman Hall at OCCC, Middletown, is open to the public during normal college hours Monday through Friday.

Neon Sculptor at UCCC Demonstration

Victor Millonzi, Woodstock, a nationally famous neon-sculptor, will give a lecture-demonstration entitled "Light Sculpture in Modern Technology" at Ulster County Community College on Thursday, May 9.

The lecture demonstration, presented by the College's Visual Art Program, will take place at 1:40 p. m. in Room 415 of the John Burroughs Science Building on the Stone Ridge Campus. It is free and open to the public.

Millonzi uses neon piping, blown to his own designs, as material for vari-colored sculptures. In some cases these neon light sculptures are timed to go on and off, while in other instances they give off non-changing, discreetly trembling light.

Exciting Concept

"Neon sculpture generates its own excitement," Millonzi says. "It can establish the distinction between movement and stasis. Its very core is the concept of light. The sculpture of light has become an oeuvre that goes beyond theory in its beauty and impact."

Millonzi says he feels obligated to explore his awareness of the creative possibilities in neon because it is appropriate to his spatial statement. "Light as sculptural mass can create forms that contain space and light instead of displacing it," he added.

The artist's most recent neon sculpture, "Mellow Yellow," will be added to the permanent collection of the newly opened Museum of Fine Arts in Washington, D.C.

Its unique feature is that it is composed of stationary and moving pieces of neon, which revolve on a timetable in the center.

Other Works

Finch College Museum, Corcoran Gallery of Art, Washington, D.C.; Albright-Knox Art Gallery, Buffalo; National Collection, Washington, D.C., and the State Museum of New Jersey in Trenton.

A native of Buffalo, Millonzi maintains studios in New York and Woodstock. He formerly taught in Buffalo public schools and during World War II was an engineering draftsman for Curtiss-Wright and Bell Aircraft.

He left Buffalo after the war to become supervisor of art in the Pearl River Public Schools, and later joined the Mt. Vernon public school system as a teacher. After this he purchased a sign business and started re-experimenting with neon as an art form.

Millonzi has a B.A. degree from the University of Buffalo, a B.F.A. degree from Albright Art School in Buffalo, and a M.A. degree from Columbia University.

Now Playing in Repertory

IN NORTH LONDON, four members of the cast of Harold Pinter's "The Homecoming" sit down for morning coffee. From L to R they're William Metzo as Lenny, Tanny McDonald as Ruth, William Ade as Joey, and John Swearingen as Teddy. The bizarre black comedy opened at the Hudson Valley Repertory Theatre last week to high critical praise. Those who missed its first three performances will enjoy an evening of side splitting laughter if they take time out to attend one of the remaining three playing dates, "The Homecoming" will be staged again April 28, May 5 and May 11.

EDWARD HOLMES (L) as fading matinee idol James Tyrone indulges in a drunken card game with his son Edmund, portrayed by William Ade. During the game father and son discuss mom's morphine addiction, brother Jamie's lack of stability, Edmund's impending stay in a sanitarium to cure his consumption, and pop's tight-fistedness with a dollar. Scene is from Eugene O'Neill's "Long Day's Journey Into Night," which opened to excellent reviews two weeks ago at the Hudson Valley Repertory Theatre in Woodstock. The play may still be seen tonight and again on May 10.

13th Century Books at OCCC

Pages from medieval "Books of Hours," exquisitely-illustrated prayer books used being the 13th and 14th Centuries, are being displayed in the Harriman Gallery at Orange County Community College through April 30.

Made entirely by hand, the "Book of Hours" was usually lettered in Latin on parchment or vellum. An elaborate cover of leather or velvet with a clasp of precious jewels often bound the copies commissioned by royalty.

This type of book first appeared in the latter half of the 13th Century and increased in popularity until it became, during the 14th Century, the most common form of private prayer book. The name came from the division of the book into the day when prayers were recited by the individual worshipper.

Contents of a "Book of Hours" included a calendar as a guide to feast and saint's days, readings from the Gospels, the Office of the Virgin, the Office of the Dead, penitential Psalms, and the Litany of the Saints.

Local Dancers in New York

DANCE AT COLUMBIA — The Manjusri Chaki-Sircar Company, a local ensemble of Indian dancers, performed professionally in New York last week after only six months of study. The Company includes (front, L-R) Kim Herald and Jane Traum. In the rear, from the left, are: Gail Gilkey, Elizabeth Barrett and Melanee Munson.

Last Saturday evening, Manjusri Chaki-Sircar, of New Paltz, and her Company of Dancers, performed at the McMillin Theater in New York City, by invitation of the India Club of Columbia University. Dancers in the Company include Melanee Munson, Jane Traum, and Kim Herald of Woodstock, Gail Gilkey of Kingston, and Lez Barrett and Nicholas Carpluk of New Paltz.

Last season, Manjusri Chaki-Sircar, a professional dancer from Calcutta, who is internationally known for her interpretation of Tagore, and who has performed extensively in India, Africa, Europe, and the U.S., gave two performances, in August and September, for Performing Arts of Woodstock at their Little Theater.

Following these, PAW persuaded Madame Sircar to teach Indian dance in Woodstock. A class was formed, and now only six short months later, the class has danced professionally with Madame Sircar, as her company. Invitations to perform have also been received from the University of Long Island, and from the State University of New Paltz. This summer, Manjusri Sircar will again perform at Woodstock's Little Theater; this time with Company.

Earlier today, Madame Sircar was present at an Open House at the Little Theater, to meet area youngsters and parents who are interested in beginning classes for children. She demonstrated Indian folk dances and encouraged the children to dance with her. Next Saturday, May 4, at 9:30 a.m., at the Little Theater, classes for both boys and girls will begin.

Seminary Show Business

the problem of males too reticent to don dresses and flowered bonnets was also overcome in time. Brushing up their Shakespeare, the seminarians recalled there were no actresses in the Bard's day. Girls were played by boys anyway; so that, in "As You Like It" for example, an Elizabethan audience saw, in the part of Rosalind who disguises herself as the boy Ganymede, a boy pretending to be a girl pretending to be a boy.

Beginning timidly, the "female" cast of "The Music Man" grew with their roles; went on to steal every scene they were in. In the Mount production, the townfolk (ladies included) made their first entrance during the third scene. The scene was restaged into a sort of strolling around-greeting one another business to allow the audience time to control its first burst of laughter at the sight of male "females." Until the initial tumult died down, there was no chance of getting the Iowa Stubborn song number across.

Cameras Rolling

British stage and screen actress Barbara Jefford has joined the international all-star cast headed by Anthony Quinn, Laurence Olivier, David Jansen, Oskar Werner, Vittorio De Sica and Leo McKern in MGM's "The Shoes of The Fisherman," which is now before the cameras in Rome.

In the contemporary drama of East-West tensions, from the best-selling novel of the same name, Miss Jefford plays "Ruth Faber," the doctor-wife of Jansen. The Shoes of the Fisherman marks the first screen appearance for Miss Jefford since she won praise for her portrayal of Molly Bloom in the film version of James Joyce's "Ulysses."

the Rev. James Bek, music rearranger, and Frater George Rich, scene designer, had worried themselves into near ulcers over possible audience reaction, all doubts dissolved in that third scene of the first act. The howl of laughter that went up opening night and at every subsequent performance, clued them into the fact that they had a winner. Standing ovations came every night of the run (six performances were given) and a nice touch evolved when a member of the opening night audience presented a bouquet of roses to Frater John Dorff, who played the Mayor's wife, Mrs. Eulalie Shinn.

Looking back over the lengthy rehearsals period, which began Jan. 8 and culminated in the first dress rehearsal March 11, and the productions which ran from March 17 through Easter Sunday, the Rev. Pauli filled us in on some of the miracles "The Music Man" wrought. One was the sight of Pauli himself, attired in Roman collar, shopping in a local drug store for hair spray, bobby pins and false eyelashes. This "difficult" expedition had to be handled by him personally simply because he couldn't talk anyone else into doing it.

A second miracle was the actual corraling of the cast for rehearsals. With some actors teaching Catechetics every day of the week; others holding adult discussion groups; a number floored by flu and laryngitis; and stage crew and prompters learning the script and songs from memory in case they needed to pinch hit, the very groundwork was hectic. An additional problem was raised by the diet-conscious among the cast. They fitted their costumes one day and the next they weighed in 40 pounds lighter.

A Riotous Hit

Not so curiously, "The Music Man" was a hit—a riotous hit—and it will long be remembered locally. Some 3,000 people saw the show and another 1,000 had to be turned away because of the seating limitations in the Mount's auditorium. Among those who cheered the actors, the costumes and the red-white-and-blue psychedelic scenic effects were Brother Rudolph and his circle of friends, other friends of the seminarians in the area, and parents and relatives of Mount students.

Capacity crowds turned out even without advertising and advertising was avoided since the auditorium space was limited. Word-of-mouth boosting was enough to fill the house and keep the show small and folksy, which was what the Mount students wanted. Although there have been requests to restage the show in Brooklyn, Newburgh and other places, the offers have been turned down because the cast feels the cloak-and-dagger would be lost in a large auditorium, and because dance numbers and general staging would have to be expanded.

Still, for those who saw "The Music Man" in the unusual seminary surroundings, it was a memorable experience. And, for the cast and crew, it was more than a ritual undertaking. Now facing examinations and preparing for ordinations which is, after all, why they are at the Mount in the first place, they retain pleasant memories of that spirit of adventure that took them back to River City, Iowa in 1912, a time when town squares, town halls, high school gyms and back lawns played host to travelling trombone salesmen, school bands gave concerts, and Wells Fargo wagons were greeted with excitement when they pulled into town.

Paltz Players Slate Miller's 'The Crucible'

Arthur Miller's plays are among the most stirring in the history of American theatre. Playwrights like Miller we can use, for he is a good man and true when it comes to writing about disparate characters in great depth. Few are even bored with Miller, whose latest play, "The Price," his first since "Incident at Vichy," recently opened on Broadway.

One of Miller's finest dramas is the tense and moving "The Crucible," and it is good news indeed that this play will be revived shortly on the New Paltz campus, by the New Paltz Players.

"The Crucible," directed by Dr. Charles Scott, head of the Theatre Arts Department at the area State University, will be presented May 8, 9, 10 and 11 at the McKenna Theatre on campus. Performances are slated at 8:30 p.m. each night and the box office will open May 1 with tickets available between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. daily.

A Solid Drama

Solid drama predominates in this particular Miller play, which focuses on how people are caught up in the web of hate and fear which is formed as they desperately attempt to hold on to the remnants of their puritanical backgrounds. As his victimized hero and heroine, Miller uses John and Elizabeth Proctor, who—like all forerunners in any new and open-minded movement—must, by tradition, be exterminated in one way or another.

Portraying these lead roles at New Paltz will be Lewis Arlt of Woodstock and Barbara Hyslop. Other top roles will be taken by Ann Kubik as a fellow martyr, Rebecca Nurse; and Douglas Hunt as Giles Corey, a soft, old fool who falls prey to hard heads, hard hearts and hard rocks. The major roles call for an eloquence always present in any Miller play. The remainder of the cast—a captivating group of lost townspeople, judges and souls—will be portrayed by Marcy Salzman, Glenn Lebwohl, Kevin Barkhausen, Skip Bartz, Gerry Bell, Tom Pletto, Lon Tytell, Larry Gobrecht and Kathleen Kennedy. Sets will be designed by Raymond T. Kurd.

Another major role will be assumed by Richard Casselman, who is cast in the role of The Rev. John Hale, a character who stands halfway between the victims of a dying faith and the victims of these victims. In the beginning, Hale is weighted down with the books of the Puritan faith but, as enlightenment comes, he fights for the Proctors and the almost saint-like Mrs. Nurse. As created by Miller, this is the most universal role in the play—for Hale is too strong to be put down—but, on the other hand, too weak to break the web.

Price of Justice

Revelation comes after revelation, often in angry outbursts. The price of justice looms high when the repressed young ladies of the town are allowed to assume the roles of judge and jury. Having been caught at their curious games of adolescence in the shelter of the woods, they take their revenge on the adults, a group they cannot understand because of the ever present generational gap. These roles in the Paltz Players' production will be taken by Janet Jones, Susan Silversmith, Joanne Masse, Barbara Bauer and Patricia Pearsall. "The Crucible" is a play in depth and the Paltz Players can be expected to perform in depth. This perceptive look at man's inhumanity to man should be well worth the trip to New Paltz to see, and TEMPO recommends it to theatregoers in this area.

Goulet's Daughter Making Debut Here

Like father, like daughter—or so they say—and singer Robert Goulet's daughter, Nikki, would seem to be no exception. The pert Miss Goulet, whose famous father starred in "Camelot" on Broadway and is currently one of the biggest draws in the entertainment world, will make her first professional appearance right here in Ulster County.

Nikki Goulet will take to the stage of the Clove Valley Theatre over in High Falls tonight to sing selections from dad's latest Broadway hit musical, "The Happy Time."

The occasion is the first anniversary celebration of the Clove Valley Theatre tonight at 8:30. In a swinging potpourri, the audience will be treated to everything from folk music to serious drama. Entertaining will be the The Pethos, The Peterson Twins, and a host of other talents. Following the gala anniversary show, Clove Valley Theatre owner Joe Runner will toss a party in his Canada Joe's Cabaret with more exciting entertainment.

Drive on over tonight and have yourself a ball.

MOVIES

THE BATTLE OF ALGIERS. It was the late, great Albert Camus who wrote, "Algiers opens to the sky like a wound." In the 1950s, that wound flowed red with blood as the Arab Front de Liberation Nationale fought for the country's independence from France. Now Italian director Gillo Pontecorvo has re-created the bitterness, ferocity and realism of those terrible days in a truly powerful motion picture. The film, currently playing at Woodstock's Tinker Street Cinema, records the Algerian struggle for independence from French colonialism with all the impact of a Molotov cocktail.

Not one newsreel clip was used to make the picture but its realism is so amazing that one can hardly believe it has all been done by professional actors.

The movie begins with a major defeat of the F.L.N. guerrillas in 1957, then flashes back several years to the early days of the strife, when the Arabs began to organize terrorists gangs, which roamed the streets of Algiers. As Frenchmen are killed and their cafes are bombed, an older generation of movie goers can barely recognize the streets and boulevards where Pepe le Moko once pursued his fortune.

But to a new generation of film fans, the sound of explosions and the sight of Arabs being rounded up and tortured into giving evidence against themselves must remind them of their own views on Vietnam and the rioting in our own American streets.

To the film's credit, it presents both sides of the Algerian conflict with little comment. But its newsreel-like studies of the F.L.N. underground could serve today as a blueprint for revolutionists. Indeed, New York Magazine writer Jimmy Breslin recently reported that during the film's lengthy run in Manhattan, it played to constantly full houses with the majority of the audience always black. To those who journeyed down from Harlem to see it, the scenes of rebels shooting police, police retaliating with arrests and executions, and individual acts of violence supplemented by bombings, in which women joined, it must have seemed they were watching their own lives recreated and their own fates forecast.

If "The Battle of Algiers" shocks the senses with scenes of innocents blown to bits in dance halls, waiting rooms and race tracks, it also paints an agonizing portrayal of the tragic French colonel who is sent in to quash the rebellion.

After paratroopers seal in the Casbah, torture elicits information and the Arab leaders are killed, the French have won and the revolt has been suppressed. An epilogue, however, acknowledges that the revolt rose again and triumphed two years later. History eventually proved too much for the French and Algeria was granted her independence.

BLACKBEARDS GHOST. Ever wondered what really happened to Blackbeard the pirate? Well, as Peter Ustinov recreates him in this film, he's now a ghost... and a darned incorrigible old nuisance of a ghost at that. Condemned to wander in limbo until he performs a single good deed on earth, he gets himself inadvertently summoned up by the new athletic coach at a small college.

JEANN MARTIN portrays Colonel Mathieu, head of the French Paratroop battalion, in the Venice Film Festival winner "The Battle of Algiers." The startling realistic account of the Algerian struggle for freedom is currently being shown at Woodstock's Tinker Street Cinema.

As Ustinov plays Blackbeard, he's a noisy, fat, rum-guzzling pain-in-the-neck, and since he is visible only to the coach (and to you out there in the audience, of course), his interference with the campus community causes havoc.

This one is definitely for the kiddies and they'll love Blackbeard's adventures as he saves the home of a group of addled old ladies from a slick gangster, who covets the site for a gambling casino. When Blackbeard takes a hand in pulling the coach's track team (the worst in the country) into shape, he racks up his good deed.

The film came out of the Walt Disney studios and also stars Dean Jones as the earnest young coach, Suzanne Pleshette as a beautiful psychology professor, Joby Baker as the mean gangster, and Elsa Lanchester as the Chairman of the Daughters of the Buccaneers. But it's the incorrigible Ustinov as Blackbeard himself who steals the show.

You can see it now at the

Flea Market's Noisy and Gaudy Bargain Hunt

Tempo took in the New York Flea Market at 25th Street and Sixth Avenue which opened for its fifth year last Sunday, in Manhattan. The opening of the colorful outdoor market benefited the educational programs sponsored by the Community Committee of the Brooklyn Museum.

A record number of collectors, traders, hobbyists, artists and antiquarians exhibited in a price range from 10 cents for a lacy old greeting card to $2,000 for a signed Tiffany bronze and iridescent glass chandelier.

Like flea markets abroad, the New York Flea Market offers a historical shopping spree. A wealth of curios, nostalgic bits and pieces, decorative accessories, thingumbobs and the graffiti of earlier civilization are stacked on folding tables, chair, crates, stands and easels set up throughout the half-block parking lot. The atmosphere is relaxed, leisurely and redolent of the informal marts of the Lower East Side at the turn of the century.

Some dealers take space at the market for a single Sunday to dispose of an estate or a collection for quick cash. Others may be itinerant traders whose stock rolls in lashed to the tops of special heavy duty station wagons as they travel the countryside from market to market.

The shoppers at the New York Flea Market may be suburbanites, intellectuals, university leaders, financial moguls, show people, artisans and young professionals seeking "good old pieces" to be carted home. Out-of-state visitors hunt treasures and uptown dealers scout the New York Flea Market for "sleepers"—such as rare first editions or signed originals. It's being held each Sunday until June 30...so drive down.

Inn's Art Contest

John Russo, manager of Bear Mountain Inn, announced today the Inn would sponsor its second annual "Mother's Day" art contest May 11.

Elementary school children from kindergarten to sixth grade will be eligible to enter the contest, which has a $25 savings bond as first prize and consolation prizes for five runners-up.

All entries which must have the theme of "Mother's Day," must be submitted by May 10 at the Inn. Entrants must include their name, school, home address, and telephone number on their entry. The panel of judges will name winners May 11 at 3 p.m.

Photog Exhibit Opening May 6

Judges were named today for Orange County Community College's second annual photographic show and competition which begins in the college's Harriman Gallery on Monday, May 6.

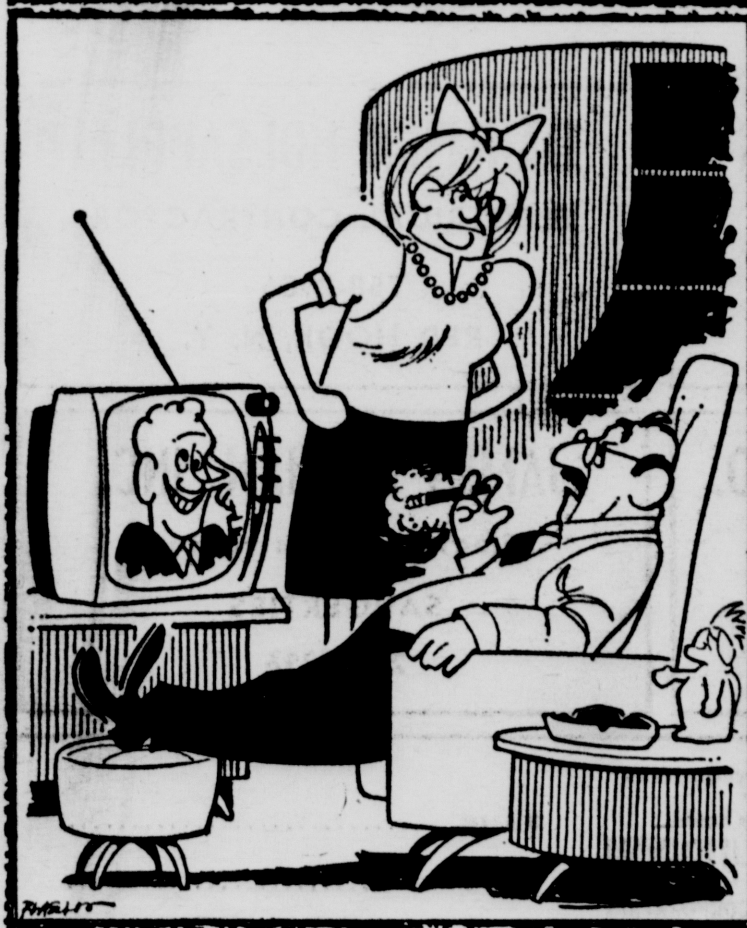

The competition is open to all area photographers. Prizes will be awarded to first- and second-place prints in both color and black-and-white categories. Outstanding entries will be displayed in the OCCC gallery at Middletown through May 24.

An extra feature of the photo show will be a special noncompetitive display of work by the Newburgh Camera Club.

Judges for the event are Donald Sinnock, coordinator of audio-visual services for OCCC; Hugh M. McMullen of Marlboro, president of the Newburgh Camera Club; Ralph Aiello, of Newburgh, city editor of The Evening News; and Manny Fuchs, chief photographer for the Herald-Record.

Entries should be submitted to OCCC art instructor William Majors in Harriman Hall on May 1, 2 or 3 between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. Slides cannot be accepted for the competition.

MOVIES

THE BATTLE OF ALGIERS. It was the late, great Albert Camus who wrote, "Algiers opens to the sky like a wound." In the 1950s, that wound flowed red with blood as the Arab Front de Liberation Nationale fought for the country's independence from France. Now Italian director Gillo Pontecorvo has re-created the bitterness, ferocity and realism of those terrible days in a truly powerful motion picture. The film, currently playing at Woodstock's Tinker Street Cinema, records the Algerian struggle for independence from French colonialism with all the impact of a Molotov cocktail.

Not one newsreel clip was used to make the picture but its realism is so amazing that one can hardly believe it has all been done by professional actors.

The movie begins with a major defeat of the F.L.N. guerrillas in 1957, then flashes back several years to the early days of the strife, when the Arabs began to organize terrorist gangs, which roamed the streets of Algiers. As Frenchmen are killed and their cafes are bombed, an older generation of movie goers can barely recognize the streets and boulevards where Pepe le Moko once pursued his fortune.

But to a new generation of film fans, the sound of explosions and the sight of Arabs being rounded up and tortured into giving evidence against themselves must remind them of their own views on Vietnam and the rioting in our own American streets.

To the film's credit, it presents both sides of the Algerian conflict with little comment. But its newsreel-like studies of the F.L.N. underground could serve today as a blueprint for revolutionists. Indeed, New York Magazine writer Jimmy Breslin recently reported that during the film's lengthy run in Manhattan, it played to constantly full houses with the majority of the audience always black. To those who journeyed down from Harlem to see it, the scenes of rebels shooting police, police retaliating with arrests and executions, and individual acts of violence supplemented by bombings, in which women joined, it must have seemed they were watching their own lives re-created and their own fates forecast.

If "The Battle of Algiers" shocks the senses with scenes of innocents blown to bits in dance halls, waiting rooms and race tracks, it also paints an agonizing portrayal of the tragic French colonel who is sent in to quash the rebellion.

After paratroopers seal in the Casbah, torture elicits information and the Arab leaders are killed, the French have won and the revolt has been suppressed. An epilogue, however, acknowledges that the revolt rose again and triumphed two years later. History eventually proved too much for the French and Algeria was granted her independence.

This is an unbelievably brilliant movie and it sums up an epoch—an epoch lived by intense, fierce-eyed men and women of cold blood and courage, who say their fanaticism pay off.

BLACKBEARDS GHOST. Ever wondered what really happened to Blackbeard the pirate? Well, as Peter Ustinov re-creates him in this film, he's now a ghost, and a darned incorrigible old nuisance of a ghost at that. Condemned to wander in limbo until he performs a single good deed on earth, he gets himself inadvertently summoned up by the new athletic coach at a small college.

JEANN MARTIN portrays Colonel Mathieu, head of the French Paratroop battalion, in the Venice Film Festival winner "The Battle of Algiers." The startling realistic account of the Algerian struggle for freedom is currently being shown at Woodstock's Tinker Street Cinema.

As Ustinov plays Blackbeard, he's a noisy, fat, rum-guzzling pain-in-the-neck, and since he is visible only to the coach (and to you out there in the audience, of course), his interference with the campus community causes havoc.

This one is definitely for the kiddies and they'll love Blackbeard's adventures as he saves the home of a group of addled old ladies from a slick gangster, who covets the site for a gambling casino. When Blackbeard takes a hand in pulling the coach's track team (the worst in the country) into shape, he racks up his good deed.

The film came out of the Walt Disney studios and also stars Dean Jones as the earnest young coach, Suzanne Pleshette as a beautiful psychology professor, Joby Baker as the mean gangster, and Elsa Lanchester as the Chairman of the Daughters of the Buccaneers. But it's the incorrigible Ustinov as Blackbeard himself who steals the show.

ELECTRIC LIVING GUIDE

What' Stingy About It?

"So I try to save a buck whenever I can. What's wrong about that! But the wife calls me stingy; tells everybody I'm stalled about converting to electric heating until I discover the equipment lasts longer. And that electricity rates will probably go lower in the future. Now I admit those are strong points . . . but I'd have gone along with her anyway. After all, time is money; and this complete heating system of ours hasn't cost us even a minute of wasted time operating it, repairing anything or ordering anything.

"That's because it runs itself according to the way we've set the thermostats. It's never gone wrong, so we haven't needed repairs. And we don't have to order fuel—or store it—because electricity for heating is all of a sudden just there . . . the way it is for the lamps, or the toaster, or the refrigerator."

The thrifty man who said that is one of a new breed who figure on long range economy with their electric home heating systems. Time was, only seven or so years ago, when many families were glad to pay premium prices just to get the even comfort and flexibility possible only with this world-of-tomorrow method.

Tenants who want uniform warmth on a 24-hour basis just set the thermostats that way and leave well enough alone. Those who like to vary from warmer to cooler at night (or from room to room) re-set the stats according to taste. The reason perhaps, that they say the electric way is 'heating a la carte.'

QUESTION BOX

Question: Please tell us who's right on this matter. I said that electric heating is mostly in older houses that are modernizing. My neighbor says I'm wrong, that it's mostly for new houses.

Answer: Electric heating is suitable for either new houses or for conversions. Let's say you're right in noticing there's a lot of converting to electric heating systems going on. But the new-home swing to electric heating rings up the biggest totals. Nearly one million of the electrically heated homes in our country are conversions. But something over two million are new houses.

Incidentally, though the concern of this column is the home, electric heating is also growing in popularity for schools, hospitals, factories, churches . . . and many public buildings.

Question: My husband says he read that the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library is going to have electric heating. Is he right? And how can electric heat be adapted to such a big place?

Answer: Your husband's information is correct. As to the second part of your question; electric heating is suitable for any size structure.

Question: Is there any rule of thumb we can use for determining what our insulation costs should be per cubic foot of living space? We're planning to convert to electric heat . . . and fairly extensive insulation has been recommended.

Answer: We feel the only ratio that makes sense is how much insulation is required to offset the insulation deficiency you apparently now have. And by the way, the sooner you do the job, the lower the cost as far as the insulation goes; because it comes under the category of building costs. Need we add they escalate. After all, it's for your comfort. It also adds to the value of your home. Incidentally, the actual installation of an electric heating system is considered moderate.
